Intertie Water Plan Tentatively Wins Approval

Would Bring Russian River Water To Marin Municipal

By PAT ANGLE

An agreement to bring 4,300 acre-feet of water annually to the Marin Municipal Water District won tentative approval yesterday from the district board. (Another water district story, page 8.)

Directors endorsed a contract with the North Marin County Water District for water through the proposed North Marin intertie between the two districts.

The contract will, among other things, permit Marin Municipal to import Russian River water through North Marin's lines.

Under its terms, North Marin also will supply water to users who currently obtain water from Marin Municipal on a surplus basis. These users, including the Muir Woods National Monument and Forts Barry, Baker and Cronkhite, are scheduled to lose their water later this year. Marin Municipal, which currently has a moratorium on new connections, has been told by its attorneys that it cannot continue to supply "surplus water."

Directors voted 4-1 to tentatively approve the contract and asked district staff and its attorney, Tom Thorner, to work with North Marin officials to "tighfen up" the provisions and clarify some of them.

Jack R. Felson cast the only dissenting vote. He said he opposes the intertie because it is inadequate to meet the district's long-term water needs. Felson also objected to some of the provisions of the contract.

The board's action does not mean the long-delayed intertie pipeline will now be built. Marin Municipal first must get the Sonoma County Water Agency to promise to supply the water.

Last month the Sonoma agency halted negotiations with Marin Municipal on the contract to obtain the water. In a letter, officials said the agency will not reopen negotiations until all questions regarding construction of the Warm Springs Dam and its planned aqueduct project from the Russian River to Cotati are resolved and "there appear to be no environmental, political or other roadblocks to the completion.

(Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas has issued a court order stopping construction of the dam until a lawsuit over the controversial project has been resolved. Yesterday, the Supreme Court refused to review the case or interfere with Douglas' stop-work order.)

Also Sonoma currently is renegotiating all its contracts with its customers. The terms of the new contracts include a provision that the agency or a customer cannot sell surplus or off-peak water without the approval of the other customers. Water supplied to Marin Municipal would be off-peak, wintertime water.

J. Dietrich Stroeh, Marin Municipal general manager, said he has talked with Sonoma officials and is convinced the water will be available by this fall or winter. "This is only a temporary delay," he said.

The terms of the contract between North Marin and Marin Municipal also state Marin Municipal will provide North Marin with 150-acre-feet of water in case of an emergency water shortage in West Marin. Felson objected to this, saying it would permit more development in West Marin.

Marin Municipal also agrees to pay North Marin $13.50 per acre-foot to transport the water through its lines.

And North Marin will provide Marin Municipal with 450 acre feet of water during the winter. This water would be stored in Marin Municipal facilities, then returned to North Marin during peak use periods in the summer.

FAIRFAX FINK STRIKES AGAIN

An effigy of Fairfax Mayor Frank J. Egger — festooned with a placard dubbing him Rank Fregger — hangs limply from a telephone pole on Center Boulevard. The dummy, which appeared mysteriously this morning, is believed the work of the Fairfax Fink, an anonymous lampoonist who revels in barbing the town council. The Fink first surfaced last month with publication of an anonymous newsletter satirizing Egger and colleagues Priscilla C. Gray (Pre-Silly Gray) and Randall L. Garrison (Grandiose Rarrison).

Upper Ross Valley Growth Check Backed

A committee of city officials from San Anselmo and Fairfax appeared receptive yesterday to a county proposal for an area-wide growth control ordinance in the upper Ross Valley.

The group, made up of councilmen and planning commissioners from the two cities as well as various county officials, agreed to forward the proposal to the city councils for their reactions.

Yesterday's meeting at Civic Center was called by supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and was one in a series being conducted by supervisors to explain their proposed ordinance and alleviate city worry as to its intent.

It was attended by San Anselmo councilman John H. Colteaux, San Anselmo Planning commissioner Cynthia Barrows, Fairfax Mayor Frank J. Egger Jr. and Fairfax planning commissioner Adelaide P. Wilson.

Other included county planning commissioners Gloria Duncan and Rebecca W. Watkin, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and Sol Silver, chief of advanced county planning.

Supervisors decided on the informal discussions after their growth control plan was rejected by the Novato City Council during a turbulent meeting with supervisors.

Mrs. Barrows, wife of County Administrator John F. Barrows, said San Anselmo is already moving toward joint growth control within its sphere of influence.

She said the city is using the county's ordinance as a guide.

The county's ordinance proposes to divide the county into "planning areas" with city and county officials setting a maximum number of new homes that can be built each year.

A review board would then judge approved development plans and grant building permits to those offering the most amenities such as open space and moderate-cost housing.

Mrs. Barrows and councilman Colteaux said they would be interested in expanding the proposed ordinance to cover the Fairfax area if all could agree.

Arrigoni noted that it would be to the cities' advantage to enter into a joint agreement with the county.

Board Likely To Kill Discounted Bus Fares

A proposal to eliminate the 15-cent local bus fare in Marin for children, students and elderly persons appears virtually certain as of next week.

Removal of the discount was asked by Marin County Transit District directors (the board of supervisors and two city councilmen), and endorsed yesterday by a committee of Golden Gate Bridge District. (Other bridge district stories, page 6.)

The unanimous recommendation by the transportation committee will go to the full board at 10 a.m. tomorrow in toll plaza offices.

The county transit board said the step was needed to prevent cuts in bus service. It will raise $69,100 a year, according to bridge district estimates.

The committee's approval of the proposal was contrary to opposition by the bridge district's staff. Bus Transit Mgr. H. Donald White said the staff was "reticent about forcing children, students and senior citizens into bearing the total load as suggested by Marin County."

Arguing "a reduced fare for children and students is an investment in the future," White suggested instead that the special fare be raised to 20 cents and the fare for everyone else also be raised a nickel, from 25 to 30 cents.

White's assistant, Jerome Kuykendall, added that an across-the-board increase for all local bus riders "would be more equitable" than eliminating the discount. A nickel hike in all fares would raise an additional $97,000 a year, and a dime hike would raise $176,000, he said.

The committee, however, sided with the Marin board on the

Dean Testimony Indicates Nixon Knew About Payoffs

Watergate Hush Money Not Without Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John W. Dean III reportedly testified today that he felt certain President Nixon knew even before March 21, 1973 that secret payments were flowing to the original Watergate defendants.

Rep. George E. Danielson, D-Calif., summarizing Dean's preliminary testimony before a closed session of the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment inquiry, said Dean's recall on that point "has potential significance."

Danielson said it implies Nixon acquiesced in the payments to the defendants — considered potential grounds for a charge of obstruction of justice.

"Dean said he couldn't give a specific date, but he's got a pervasive strong feeling that he talked to the President about the payments before March 21," Danielson told a reporter.

"If you consider that in a few weeks those tapes might be turned over to us because of a Supreme Court decision, that testimony from Dean has potential significance," Danielson said.

"I think you'll find it in them," he said.

Rep. Ed Mezvinsky, D-Iowa, said that as a result of Dean's testimony he felt "the burden of proof shifts to the President."

"It's up to him to try to discredit Dean," he said.

Mezvinsky said he was struck with the sincerity of Dean, who was called to testify by Nixon's lawyer, James D. St. Clair.

St. Clair, asked if he felt Dean's answers helped the President, replied, "Let the record speak for itself."

Rep. M. Caldwell Butler, R-Va., was asked to characterize the witness.

"Same old John Dean," he said. "He's less sure of himself than he appeared to be at the Senate hearings.

"He's a very lucid witness," Mezvinsky said. "He comes off as a decent guy. He doesn't come off as one who's out to stab the President in the back ... He comes off as pretty much ashamed of what he did and as one who was attempting to forewarn him that there were those around him who were trying to do him in."

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., a senior committee member, said he felt that Dean left the March 21 meeting with Nixon with the impression that Nixon was not discouraging the payment of the money.

Dean follows to the witness stand at the House Judiciary Committee his old ally, John N. Mitchell, who, some members said, "stonewalled" the committee, refusing to answer most questions but declining to take the Fifth Amendment.

Dean, ironically, was suggested as defense witness before the House impeachment inquiry by Nixon's lawyer, James D. St. Clair.

St. Clair told the congressmen he believes Dean would testify that the telephone call he made to set in motion the payment of hush money to E. Howard Hunt was placed before —and not after —he had talked to Nixon on March 21, 1973.

Tapes in the committee's possession suggest that Nixon sanctioned the $75,000 payment after Dean told him of Hunt's threat to reveal "seamy things" he had done for the White House.

Dean has pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice resulting from his own role in the cover-up but could still be prosecuted for perjury.

The first serious charge that Nixon was a knowledgeable participant in the cover-up came in June, 1972, when Dean testified for five consecutive days before the Senate Watergate committee. He has been the most serious challenger of the President's denials ever since then.

"It's like a handful of smoke," complained Rep. George E. Danielson, D-Calif. "You can't get your hands on it."

"He's lying his —off," said Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., as he hurried from the hearing room to cast a vote in the House.

But Republicans generally said Mitchell's testimony supported St. Clair's contention that Mitchell on his own authorized Frederick C. LaRue, a Nixon re-election aide, to make the Hunt payment after he was told it was for Hunt's legal fees.

St. Clair seeks to prove Nixon played no role in authorizing the payment and to show the money was believed by all involved to be only for legal fees.

'Trick' On Ehrlichman Is Claimed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John D. Ehrlichman's lawyer said today special Watergate prosecutors tried to trick President Nixon's former domestic adviser during the investigation that led to Ehrlichman's being indicted in the Ellsberg break-in.

Defense attorney William S. Frates and associate Watergate prosecutor William H. Merrill presented closing arguments in the 11th day of the trial of Ehrlichman and three others on charges of violating the rights of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

The case will go to the jury tomorrow.

Frates said that when the special prosecutors questioned Ehrlichman before the grand jury a second time in September, 1973, they rebuffed his efforts to correct testimony he had given four months previously.

"Were they trying to trick him?" Frates asked. "Is that fair?"

Merrill used a red wax pen to circle 14 dates on a calendar of summer months of 1971, during which he said Ehrlichman could not recall memos and conversations of meetings that the prosecutor said led to the break-in at the office of Dr. Lewis Fielding over Labor Day weekend, 1971.

Merrill contended Ehrlichman —who also is charged with lying to the FBI and a grand jury —made false statements after he had taken specific actions to hide his involvement in the case by removing the original copies of key memos from the White House files of activity by the "Plumbers" unit.

At the time the former White House domestic adviser was interviewed, Merrill said Ehrlichman had removed the memos and secreted them in President Nixon's own vault where Ehrlichman hoped that they "never see the light of day."

"Everyone else knew that someone was going to go into Dr. Fielding's office and examine his files without his consent," Merrill told the jury as he outlind a series of key meetings, memos and conversations in which Ehrlichman participated during July, August and September, 1971.

As he circled the dates on the calender, Merrill said that despite testimony of a number of witnesses throughout the trial concerning Ehrlichman's participation and conversations concerning the "covert" operation against Fielding Ehrlichman maintains he does not remember the details of those exchanges.

Merrill, speaking in a conversational tone for 80 minutes, said the main issue was not who was aware of a break-in but instead who participated in the planning of a "covert operation" to enter Fielding's office and examine the medical files.

The testimony section of the trial ended yesterday with President Nixon—in written answers — and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger both denying they had authorized a psychological investigation of Ellsberg.

Nixon's sworn, written answers to six questions, and Kissinger's one-minute, 58-second courtroom appearance highlighted the 10th day of the trial yesterday as all testimony was concluded. There were 33 witnesses in all.

"Did you ever authorize anyone on the White House staff to search the files of Dr. Fielding for information about Dr. Ellsberg, without a warrant or the permission of Dr. Fielding, or to hire others to do so?" was the key question put in writing to Nixon.

"No," Nixon answered in writing.

"Did you have any knowledge whether there was plan to obtain psychological information regarding Daniel Ellsberg or his psychological files from his psychiatrist?" Watergate trial lawyer Philip J. Bakes Jr. asked Kissinger.

"I had no such knowledge," Kissinger replied.

Nixon said he authorized the plumbers "to prevent and halt leaks of vital security information, and to prepare an accurate history of certain critical national security matters which occurred under prior administrations." He said he was first informed of the breakin on March 13, 1973.

Nixon Discusses Impeachment With Two Republican Leaders

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon met for 90 minutes today with the top two House Republican leaders to discuss legislative matters and "procedural questions" concerning impeachment.

House GOP leader John J. Rhodes and his assistant, Leslie Arends, talked privately with Nixon at the White House. Rhodes later issued a statement saying that "impeachment was discussed but only briefly and toward the end of the meeting."

Rhodes said the merits of the case were not discussed "but only various procedural questions relative to the impeachment process."

"I have said all along that the President's impeachment is a judicial matter, Rhodes said. "Any assessment of the merits of the case before all the evidence is in would be both premature and wrong. The discussion this morning at the White House was fully consistent with that belief."

Following the session, Nixon met with his Cabinet on the Moscow summit trip and then talked with business leaders and economists to discuss ways of controlling the nation's 10 per cent inflation rate. Among those attending the meeting were the President's economic counselor Kenneth Rush and Herbert Stein, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers.

The President, who entertained 10 Republicans and conservative Democrats aboard the presidential yacht Sequoia last night, planned to meet separately with Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott and his No. 2 man Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., either today or Friday.

The President's cruise with the members of Congress last night was also described as a session to discuss "legislative matters." The President has sought to bolster his support with sympathetic members of Congress on two previous dinner cruises on the Sequoia May 14 and May 29.

Vice President Gerald Ford was sitting in on the meeting with Congressmen Rhodes and Arends. Ford, who has been crisscrossing the country, recently reported that he has sensed a shift in popular opinion away from impeachment.

Gurney Indicted On Bribe Charge

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — A federal grand jury charged Sen. Edward J. Gurney R-Fla., a member of the Senate Watergate Committee, with bribery and influence peddling yesterday in the first indictment against a U.S. senator in 50 years.

Gurney, in a brief statement, proclaimed his "absolute innocence," but a Florida GOP leader said the indictment dealt a "mortal blow" to the senator's re-election chances this fall.

Gurney, President Nixon's staunchest Republican backer on the Watergate Committee, was charged with conspiracy, bribery, receiving unlawful compensation and four counts of making false statements to a grand jury.

The indictment climaxed a 10-month investigation by the 18-member grand jury that started out as a look at favored treatment to builders by the Federal Housing Administraton (FHA) and the Department of Housing and Urban Development and led to a $400,000 campaign "slush fund" collected for Gurney.

"I maintain my absolute innocence of any wrongdoing," said Gurney in a statement issued by his Washington office after the indictments were announced.

"I have an abiding faith in the American system of justice and I firmly believe that I will be proved innocent of any wrongdoing in this affair.

"I intend to fight this move just as hard as I can, and I will be vindicated."

Florida Republican Party Chairman L.E. (Tommy) Thomas said after learning of the indictment, "I'm very sorry about this tragic turn of events and, even though he is innocent until proven guilty, I'm sure the senator's re-election effort has been dealt a mortal blow."

SEN. EDWARD J. GURNEY
Proclaims innocence

In Washington, sources in the Justice Department said the last time a senator was indicted in office was Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana in 1924, but the charges later were dismissed.

Gurney has maintained all along that the grand jury investigation is part of a political vendetta against him by his enemies seeking to oust him from his seat, which he has held since November, 1968.

The maximum penalties for all of the various charges against Gurney total 42 years in prison and at least $80,000 in fines. The fine could be much larger if the fine for bribery is calculated at three times the amount of the bribe, as provided by law.

Gurney said in a televised news conference last Dec. 7 that he had no advance knowledge of the fund-raising efforts carried out on his behalf and said he ordered them halted as soon as he found out about them.

Secret Daley Holdings Bared

CHICAGO (UPI) — Mayor Richard J. Daley has kept secret for 17 years his ownership of a real estate and holding company with assets of about $200,000, the Chicago Sun-Times reported today in a copyrighted story.

The newspaper said Daley owns Elard Realty Co., which holds title to the mayor's summer home in Grand Beach, Mich., the building that houses the 11th Ward Democratic headquarters, near Daley's home in Chicago, and other properties.

The mayor's interest in the firm violates no law, the newspaper said, but it was a carefully guarded secret and "a classic example of how substantial assets can successfully be concealed."

Hunger Strike

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — U.S. and Canadian inmates at Lecumberri Prison refused to eat today in the third day of a hunger strike to protest "police torture and extortion" at Mexico City's "black palace."

The 78 male prisoners accused jailers of torturing some inmates with electric cattle prods and said the U.S. government exerted pressure on Mexico to keep them in jail.

A prisoner statement relayed by the girl friend of one of the inmates predicted a "possible dangerous situation" at Lecumberri, nicknamed the "black palace" because of the old building's soot-dark bricks.

LISBON (UPI) — Prime Minister Adelino da Palma Carlos has offered to reconsider his resignation if Portugal adopts an interim constitution and holds a presidential election.

Da Palma Carlos, a liberal politician and former law professor, said yesterday he would set up a political party to oppose totalitarianism if his resignation is finalized.

VIENTIANE (UPI) — The new Laotian coalition government last night decided to dissolve the county's National Assembly, a government spokesman announced today.

The decision was made at a stormy cabinet meeting after neutralist Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma threatened to resign when right-wing cabinet members tried to attach conditions to the dissolution, authoritative sources said.

The cabinet unanimously decided to forward its decision to King Savang Vatthana.

Police tried unsuccessfully to extinguish the flames and Phung died shortly after setting himself on fire, as a protest against the International Commission of Control and Supervision.

Egyptian Setback

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The Soviet Union's postponement of a scheduled visit to Moscow by a high-level Egyptian delegation is a setback for President Anwar Sadat's attempt to patch up Egyptian-Soviet relations, diplomatic sources in Cairo said today.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmi, who had been scheduled to lead the delegation to Moscow next Monday for an eight-day visit, announced yesterday the Soviet Union requested a postponement because "circumstances" did not allow them enough time to prepare for the talks. There was no elaboration.

Space Crew

MOSCOW (UPI) — Six American astronauts flew home today, ending 17 days of training with the Soviets for next year's Soyuz-Apollo space linkup.

Nine astronauts initially attended the session. Capt. Eugene A. Cernan, a project director, stayed for only the first two weeks. Vance Brand, one of the three prime Apollo crewmen, and Capt. Alan L. Bean, a backup, will leave tomorrow.

Those departing today included the Apollo crew commander, Thomas P. Stafford, fellow crewman Donald K. Slayton, and backup astronauts Karol Babko, Robert F. Overmeyer, Ronald E. Evans and Jack R. Lousma.

U.S., Russia Both Fire Test Blasts

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The United States and the Soviet Union have set off underground nuclear blasts a week after pledging to limit atomic testing below the earth's surface.

The Swedish Seismological Institute in Stockholm registered an underground explosion yesterday in the Semipalatinsk area of Soviet Kazakhstan.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reported a nuclear blast of 20 to 200 kilotons yesterday in the Nevada desert, setting chandeliers swaying 90 miles away.

"The underground explosion was registered at 4:03 a.m. and had a 5.2 Richter magnitude," Markus Baath of the Swedish seismic institute said. The blast took place near where the Soviet, Mongolian and Chinese borders meet.

The Nevada blast was the 259th American underground explosion publicly announced since the 1963 atmospheric ban agreement with the Soviets.

The Atomic Energy Commission would only say the explosion involved a 20 to 200 kiloton "weapons related" device with the code name "Escabosa." It said no radiation leakage was detected.

Earl Warren To Lie In High Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The body of Earl Warren, who was eulogized as one of the greatest Supreme Court justices in history, lay in repose in the Supreme Court building today. Burial is set for Friday in Arlington National Cemetery.

Never before has the body of a former justice lain in the white marble edifice. Past and current members of the court, which Warren headed for 16 years, acted as honorary pall bearers.

The casket was brought into the famous Capitol Hill building by eight members of the court police force to be received by Warren's colleagues. Two court policemen stood as honor guards.

Near the casket stood the black-draped chair Warren used while he served as chief justice from 1953 to 1969.

Warren's body was to lie in repose from 9:45 a.m. EDT today until 12:20 p.m. Friday when it will be taken to the National Cathedral for an hour-long funeral service.

Burial with military honors will be at 3 p.m. in the National Cemetery where many of the nation's war dead and President Kennedy are buried.

Warren, 83, died Tuesday night of cardiac arrest.

"History will rightly accord Chief Justice Warren a first place in the pantheon of our greatest judges," said Associate Justice William J. Brennan yesterday.

President Nixon, who often differed with Warren's political and judicial philosophy, said: "In all things he was never a partisan of political advantage, but always a partisan for America."

Vice President Gerald R. Ford, who served with Warren on the special commission that investigated Kennedy's assassination, called Warren "a crusader in the field of constitutional law. He fought for what he thought was right."

Kennedy Said Behind Wallace's New Image

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Dr. John Cashin, head of the predominantly black National Democratic Party of Alabama, said today Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., is partly responsible for Gov. George C. Wallace's new moderate racial image.

Wallace won a landslide renomination victory for governor May 7, picking up surprising support from the state's black leaders, including Tuskegee Mayor Johnny Ford and Pritchard Mayor A.J. Cooper.

Since that victory, Fayette, Miss., Mayor Charles Evers has said he can support Wallace for vice president if Wallace runs in 1976.

"This is the Kennedy people," said Cashin. "Everybody knows Evers, Ford and Cooper are tied to the Kennedys.

"They did not do this spontaneously. Someone in the Kennedy organization pushed the button and they echoed their master's voice."

All three have worked in past Kennedy campaigns.

Cashin said it is obvious to him that Kennedy is trying to help Wallace soften his image in order to make a Kennedy-Wallace ticket palatable to the voters.

"Frankly, there is quite a dearth of presidential material around, and Wallace has as good a chance as anyone." said Cashin. "His main stumbling block is his image with black people."

Both Kennedy and Wallace have made public statements indicating the possibility they will end up on a ticket together is unlikely.

According to Cashin, Wallace and Kennedy have exactly opposite followings.

BELFAST (UPI) — A beer keg stuffed with explosives blew up outside a Belfast pub early today and extremists publicly shaved the heads of two girls accused of betraying members of the Irish Republican Army.

A British army spokesman said the Belfast bomb injured four.

IRA activisits last night shaved the heads of two 15-year-old schoolgirls they accused of betraying 15 men and women IRA members to army troops.

Training Crash

CAIRO (UPI) — A Soviet-made TU154 jet transport of the Egyptian national airline exploded on a training flight over Cairo last night and crashed in flames, killing all six persons aboard.

Airport officials said the dead were two Egyptians and four Russian crewmembers.

Cabbie Does Right Thing

VAN NUYS (UPI) — Cab driver Tom Santos made one trip his passengers had not requested, when he began to suspect that his taxi had been turned into a getaway car.

When Santos picked up two men yesterday, police said, they had just robbed a liquor store of $100. He took them to a drug store, where police said the pair stole $250 and 700 amphetamine pills. Then they went to a supermarket, where officers said the men stole $20, got back in the cab and began celebrating by taking the stolen pills.

At that point, Santos was suspicious about his passengers, so he took them to the West Valley police station. Officers arrested Colin Montgomery, 22, in the parking lot. The other suspect was hospitalized for taking an overdose of the pills.

MIKHAIL BARYSHNIKOV
To dance in Canada

Russ Ballet Defector To Perform

TORONTO (AP) — Mikhail Baryshnikov, the former star of Russia's Kirov Ballet troupe who defected here June 29, will appear with the National Ballet of Canada in two performances of La Sylphide next month.

The company said yesterday the 26-year-old Baryshnikov's appearance with the troupe will mark the first time he has danced in public since his defection and his first performance in the role of James in La Sylphide.

The National Ballet is scheduled for 10 performances at Ontario Place between Aug. 14 and Aug. 30, but it has not been decided on which dates La Sylphide will be performed.

Korean Given Life Sentence

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A 21-year-old Korean has been sentenced to life in prison with limited chances for parole in the 1973 execution-style slaying of a purported San Francisco Chinatown gang leader.

Chol Soo Lee was ordered to prison yesterday for the San Francisco street corner killing of Yip Yee Tak, 32, also known as "Dr. Yang," a reputed leader in the Wah Ching gang.

A probation department report submitted to the court said Lee should be sent to prison for as long as possible.

During the trial, Lee was protrayed by the prosecution as a "hit man" working for the Ski Mash Gang, an alleged group of robbers.

Kennedy Daughter Bruises Her Leg

CROOM, Ireland (UPI) — Kara Kennedy, 14, a daughter of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., severely bruised her leg in an accident involving a horse-drawn cart yesterday.

A spokesman at a hospital in Croom in County Limerick said she was "quite comfortable" and would be in the hospital from 24 to 72 hours.

Coast Board Adopts Land Guidelines

BURLINGAME (UPI) — The California Coastal Commission has adopted guidelines aimed at stopping the spread of residential developments in scenic areas.

Commissioners voted yesterday to forbid new developments unless additional land for housing is needed in an area.

There will be no land division, the commission decided, if that would change the area or harm the environmental values.

Neither will land division be permitted unless an area's roads, water supply and sewage disposal facilities can accommodate the proposed development.

The guidelines, which are subject to modification, are to remain in effect until a plan for coastal protection and development is completed.

Commissioners rejects requests from David Paden of Mendocino and Samuel Wight of Albion to divide coastal land in Mendocino County.

Attorney Robert L. Raymond of Little River, representing Wight, held the guidelines "amount to a de facto moratorium on land division along the north coast."

The commission, in operation 18 months, was the result of a state election initiative.

Smokey To Rest In Home Forest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When elderly Smokey Bear finally goes to "that great honey tree in the sky" his last earthly resting place will be somewhere near Capitan, N.M., a House Agriculture subcommittee has decided.

The subcommittee yesterday approved a resolution which -if finally adopted by both houses of Congress -would urge the Forest Service to return Smokey's remains to the small town near the Lincoln National Forest where he was found as a cub after a forest fire in 1950.

Smokey is the symbol of the Forest Service's fire prevention campaigns. He is now 24, and experts at his home in the National Zoo here say brown bears like Smokey normally live 25 to 30 years in captivity.

Increased Prices For Melons Seen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Sharply higher prices for melons are forecast for this summer because many farmers have diverted melon acreage to higher paying crops, a growers group said today.

Acreage normally planted in cantaloupes, watermelons and honeydew melons has been converted to cotton and hay, both of which have had dramatic price boosts, said Les Hubbard, a spokesman for the Western Growers Association.

Board Approves Car Smog Device

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Installation of an additional anti-smog device on vehicles manufactured between 1966-1970 was approved yesterday by the state Air Resources Board.

Manufacturers said the device would almost cut in half the amount of oxide of nitrogen omitted by each vehicle. Oxide of nitrogen is one of two pollutants which cause photo-chemicalsmog.

The resolutuion requires installation over an 11-month period depending on the last digit of the vehicle's license plate number. Those ending in "1" would be required to have the devices installed during August and September.

Those ending in "2" would have installation in October, and so on, with those ending in "0" having a deadline of June, 1975.

The resolution also specified the "maximum charge which may be made for installation of any required device and any related service is $35."

The requirements were adopted under an emergency provision so the public could be notified in Department of Motor Vhicle license notices going out this fall.

California Highway Patrol Sgt. Max Van Orsdale said passenger vehicle inspection lanes would be used in enforcing the requirement. He said warnings would be issued at first, but if there is no follow-up or subsequent citations are issued, the violators will be prosecuted.

The board had approved the devices last January but had postponed action for a year. Device manufacturers took the matter to the state Supreme Court, which upheld their argument that the delay was violating state law which required oxides of nitrogen control devices be installed.

30,000 Daily Go To World's Fair

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — Despite rainy weather and gusty winds, daily attendance at the Expo '74 World's Fair still remains above the 30,000 mark.

Expo officials said 32,877 persons passed through the gates at the fair Tuesday, bringing the total since the exposition opened May 4 to 2,117,131.

The figure also raised the July total to 343,319, an average of 38,146 per day this month. An average of 36,135 per day is needed to reach the expected July attendance of 1,121,000 paid admittances.

Author Of 'Barabbas' Succumbs In Sweden

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Swedish Nobel prize-winning author Paer Lagerkvist died today, his family said. He was 83.

Lagerkvist, a shy introvert who seldom appeared in public but preferred to let his books speak for him, was taken to a hospital earlier this week after suffering a stroke.

His colleagues in the Swedish Academy of Letters gave him the literature prize in 1951, 11 years after he joined the academy.

Friends and critics described him as "a believer without a faith, a religious atheist."

Throughout his life he fought for humanity, culture and human values. He felt deeply the tragedy of World War I — his works from this period were "Anguish" and "Chaos" and he reacted to the rise of Nazism in the 30s with equal vigor.

His drama "The Hangman" in 1933 warned of the impending collapse of culture and his first full length novel "The Dwarf" in 1944 gave a brilliant analysis of the problem of evil apparent in every man, the will to hate and destroy.

Lagerkvist, who was married for the second time with two sons, published some 40 poems, plays, novels and essays after 1912.

His autobiographical novel of 1925 "Guest of Reality" was dramatized for television by his son, Hans. His major work was "Barabbas", a fictional account of the thoughts of the condemned robber who was set free while Jesus Christ was crucified. It was published in 1950. Three years later it had been translated into 34 languages.

Sears Hit On Tactics Of Selling

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission has charged Sears, Roebuck and Co. used "bait and switch" tactics to sell customers higher priced home appliances.

The FTC yesterday said Sears advertised appliances at low prices to attract customers, but salesmen then attempted to sell higher priced merchandise.

Sears, in a hastily called news conference at its corporate headquarters, denied the allegation, promising to fight the FTC charge.

James W. Button, Sears senior vice president-merchandising, said, "Sears sells what it advertises."

He said Sears would not negotiate a consent decree with the FTC and would fight possible further action.

"The facts of this case are so totally different from the facts of bait and switch cases brought by the commission in the past that Sears can only conclude that the commission is seeking to test a new and previously unannounced theory of law," Button said.

The FTC also charged that commissions paid Sears' salesmen were structured so they received a higher percentage for the more expensive models than for lower priced ones. Button said salesmen were paid 9 per cent regardless of the cost of the model and were not under a quota system.

Stephanie W. Kanwit, regional FTC director, said the charges were the first such action taken against Sears.

The complaint accused Sears of not "making sales of major home appliances in good faith when they advertised sewing machines at $58, trying to get more expensive sales," Mrs. Kanwit said.

She said the FTC would ask Sears to disclose in its advertising that it is subject to a "cease and desist order."

Button said the $58 models were in stock at the time they were advertised, and a reserve stock was on hand.

Mrs. Kanwit said Sears would have 10 days in which to enter a consent decree or face a formal complaint and subsequent adjudication.

Merger Of Newspapers Announced

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Knight Newspapers and Ridder Publications have announced plans to merge, creating the fourth largest newspaper group in the United States. The new company, which will be called Knight-Ridder Newspapers, Inc., would comprise 35 newspapers across the country.

The joint announcement yesterday, by chairman and chief executive Lee Hills of Knight and president Bernard M. Ridder Jr. of Ridder, said the plans included moving out of the television and radio broadcasting and concentrating the new company on newspaper publishing.

The Ridder newspapers are located from the Midwest to the Pacific Coast. Knight newspapers are in Detroit, Akron, Philadelphia and the Southeast. Ridder also owns the New York Journal of Commerce.

The three largest newspaper groups in the country are now Gannet Newspapers with 54 dailies, Thomson newspapers with 48 dailies and Scripps League Newspapers with 36 dailies.

Young Mothers Denied Housing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A federal judge has ruled that unwed mothers who are less than 18 years old do not have a constitutional right to rent apartments owned by governmental agencies.

Judge George B. Harris in U.S. District Court ruled yesterday against Debra Manning, 16, who had sued the San Francisco Housing Authority.

Her attorneys contended the due process and equal protection clauses of the Constitution were violated when she was refused permission to apply for low cost housing.

The judge upheld a California civil law which prohibits agencies from entering into contracts with minors.

New Festival Role For Jarman

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Claude Jarman, director of the San Francisco Film Festival since 1967, will step down this year to become vice-chairman and director of the event.

Jarman, former child star, became managing director of the War Memorial Opera House July 1.

The 18th festival will run from Oct. 16 through Oct. 27 at the Palace of Fine Arts.

Jarman said yesterday that Lorena Cantrell will be in charge of administration and programming for the festival after being Jarman's executive assistant.

Tiburon Man Hurt In Freeway Crash

Hout F. Parent, 25, of 12 Apollo Road, Tiburon, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital after treatment for a head injury and cut forehead suffered in an accident.

The accident took place about 6 p.m. yesterday at the Marinwood exit from Highway 101, according to hospital spokesmen but further details were not available.

Baltimore Garbage Being Cleared Up

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Striking blue collar city employees having ignored a second back-to-work court order, crews of volunteer white-collar municipal workers tried yesterday to reduce the size of garbage piles growing since the walkout began July 1.

Eleven strike sympathizers were arrested last night after a scuffle between police and demonstrators outside City Hall.

FARES

ground the county pays for the local bus service, thus has an exclusive right to set fares.

In a related action, the committee recommended board acceptance of a compromise with the Marin transit district over disputed costs for bus service. At issue is the $351,000 cost figured by the bridge district this fiscal year for Marin passengers who board commuter buses within the county and get off before it leaves the county.

The compromise calls for the county to pay $85,000 plus about $144,000 in sales tax revenue for 32 new buses and three new ferryboats ordered by the bridge district. The problem of what to do in future years was left to further negotiations between the two districts.

Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring said the board has only until Aug. 14 to act on an option for 30 additional General Motors buses. After that date, he said, it would take at least a year to get more buses.

White said he needed at least 10 more buses to cover for those in the present fleet that need maintenance. The matter was postponed indefinitely by the committee.

Wage Offer Rejected At Hospital

The Marin Hospital District board this morning rejected the latest wage proposal of the Teamsters Union, after learning that the Teamsters yesterday rejected the directors' earlier proposal.

This morning's vote was 3-to-0, directors Bradford Simmons and Marion C. Ibach absent.

The board met in closed session to consider the proposal from Teamsters Local 856 of San Francisco, representing about 200 housekeeping, laundry, dietary and technical personnel and nursing aides.

The union is asking increases of 8 to 19 per cent, plus a 4 per cent increase in health benefits. This would cost the district about $1 million annually, according to Ray K. Bolinger, administrator.

The union yesterday rejected the board's proposal of a 5 per cent increase, which had been made July 9 by the board's negotiating committee. The board voted unanimously this morning to stand by that proposal.

Directors also balked at the Teamsters' request for a union agency shop, in which union members are required to pay dues and nonunion members must pay a "service fee" equal to the dues. They said its legality was unproven.

The Marin Hospital District board also:

MENTAL — Unanimously approved two agreements with the county concerning Short Doyle and Medi-Cal funding for mental health programs, slashed by the county from $507,000 in fiscal 1973-74 to $315,000 in 1974-75.

REQUEST — Decided to have Bolinger and newly-seated member Parnell Finn meet with representatives of the William Babcock Memorial Endowment to discuss the Babcock request that it be permitted to pay only 70 per cent of the bills of three patients.

GIFT — Accepted a gift of $129.10 for the Marin General Hospital heart unit from the Class of 1969 of Tamalpais High School.

LAWSUIT — Heard a report from its counsel, Richard S. Ried, saying that court arguments will be heard next Monday on the preliminary injunction on the district's suit against the county over the Bon Air Road realignment.

Troop Cut Talks Reach No Accord

VIENNA (UPI) — East-West troop cut talks will recess following a final plenary meeting next week with no concrete agreement in sight, a spokesman of the Western allies said today.

"There has been no basic changes in the overall proposals of both sides in their entities," the spokesman said. "The talks will probably resume in early September as both sides want the recess to be as short as possible."

The meeting on July 17 will end the first round of talks on reducing North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and Warsaw Pact Forces in Central Europe, which began Oct. 31, last year.

Park Service Lines Jammed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — So many persons telephoned reservation requests for campsites to the National Park Service that the special phone lines set up last month by park director Ronald H. Walker were overloaded.

The phone plan has now been restricted to persons asking reservations within 10 days of the telephone call.

Walker said persons seeking reservations 10 or more days in advance at any of 9,500 campsites in 21 national parks should mail letters with the $2 reservation fee to the Park Reservation System, Inc., P.O. Box 1976, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Councilman Has Youthful Heart

LONDON (AP) — Dennis Flanders is 45 and a member of the Camelford, Cornwall Council, but he remembers his early days.

He wants a special board put up in a local park so that young lovers can carve messages on it.

He put the idea forward when the Camelford Council was considering putting wire mesh over a park shelter to protect it from carvers.

"We were all young once and we probably all did a bit of carving of our initials," Flanders said. "We should not go out of our way to stop something which is virtually a tradition."

Contracts Given

The San Rafael Sanitation District board yesterday awarded three contracts to low bidders: $18,000 for chlorine to Jones Chemical Co.; $32,000 for peroxide to Van Waters and Rogers, and $11,000 for a used truck to Barda Trucking.

Housing Agency Board Meeting Is Rescheduled

A joint meeting of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency boards to discuss the performance of Executive Director Wallace K. Shepherd has been rescheduled to next Thursday at 8 p.m.

The session originally was set for tonight.

Followkng the joint meeting, the authority board will meet to discuss whether to retain Shepherd in the job.

Both sessions will be in the board of supervisors chambers at Civic Center.

Birth Injury Suit Settled

SAN JOSE (UPI) — A negligence suit brought in behalf of a girl who suffered brain damage during birth has been settled for $1.1 million.

Judge Richard Rhodes of Santa Clara County Superior Court approved the settlement yesterday of the suit against O'Connor Hospital of San Jose and Dr. James V. Murphy, an obstetrician.

The offer was made by three insurance companies.

Judge Rhodes awarded $375,000 to attorneys Gerald C. Sterns and James S. Bostwick who for four years represented Ina Hoehne, mother of the victim, Wendy Sharon Tatra, 5.

The girl has been unable to walk, talk or sit up by herself since birth.

Owner Sure Of What Is Taken

PHOENIX (UPI) — When Robert Heuring's firm, the Fashion Beauty Supply Co., was robbed July 3, one of the inconveniences was that Heuring's books were thrown off because he did not know exactly how much the robber took.

He estimated it at $120, but couldn't be sure.

So when the same robber appeared again Tuesday, Heuring determinedly began counting the proceeds from a cash register as he turned over the money. "Don't count it," the annoyed bandit snapped.

"I am going to count it," he replied. "This time I'm going to find out just how much you get."

So now he knows —$50 even.

Archives Opens Warren's Papers

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The papers and records of the late Earl Warren from the years 1930-53 have been opened in the California state Archives, but it will be some time before they will be available to the public.

Charles O. Wilson, a state archivist, said the papers filled 54 drawers and must be organized before they can be shown to historians, news reporters and others.

The records were opened the dayafter the former chief justice of the Supreme Court and California governor died in Washington at age 83. The papers were sealed in 1953 when Warren was appointed to the high court.

San Anselmo Cuts Budget

The San Anselmo City Council, reviewing a proposed $2.1 million budget for 1974-75, last night cut $945 from the program.

The cuts came as councilmen reviewed accounts proposed for the city parks and recreation department, slicing some funds while boosting others.

The council also called for a joint session with the San Anselmo School District Board to discuss city acquisition of the multipurpose room at Isabel Cook School. The school board is closing the facility.

The council next meets at 8 p.m. Tuesday in city hall to continue its budget review.

Bus Ambushed In Laos, 4 Killed

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Attackers thought to be Meo tribesmen ambushed a bus with hand grenades and M16 rifles 80 miles north of Vientiane today, killing two Laotians and two foreigners, diplomatic sources reported.

The sources said "two Caucasians, apparently an older couple," were among the dead.

An Australian girl, Kay Christian Thompson of Sydney, was wounded in the incident. She was flown to a hospital in Thailand and officials said she was in good condition.

At least one American, Mike McGough, of Berryville, N.Y., was also aboard the bus, but he was uninjured, the sources said.

Personal Use Of Campaign Funds By Nixon Suggested

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon used campaign funds secretly kept by his friend Charles G. (Bebe) Rebozo to improve his Key Biscayne estate and buy diamond earrings for his wife's birthday, the Senate Watergate Committee suggests in a section of its final report.

The 350-page chapter, approved yesterday by the committee, says Rebozo kept the fund in his Key Biscayne bank and that it was composed mainly of a $100,000 cash contribution from billionaire Howard Hughes and a $50,000 contribution from food store chain owner A.D. Davis.

Using four secret trust funds in various banks, Rebozo laundered campaign donations and used the money for improvements he ordered for Nixon's estate, the report said.

One check cleared through the trust accounts was part of a $5,650 payment made by Nixon to New York jeweler Harry Winston for platinum and diamond earrings the President gave his wife Pat for her 60th birthday in 1972.

"The funds in this special account were derived from the Florida Nixon for President Committee," the report said. "Therefore, $4,563.38 of the funds originally derived from campaign contributions were used to purchase the platinum diamond earrings."

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler ridiculed the report as "warmed over baloney." He said in a statement: "These unsubstantiated charges have been leaked and releaked and now the committee is trying to serve them up for a third time around."

JAMES D. ST. CLAIR
Presidential attorney

The report said the Nixon-Rebozo arrangement for handling Key Biscayne improvements was set up the day after Nixon's first inauguration in 1969. But the White House, in a letter attached to the report, denied such an arrangement existed.

James D. St. Clair, Nixon's Watergate lawyer refused to respond to most of the evidence offered by the committee, but said in the letter he wanted to "convey the President's assurance that he never instructed C.G. Rebozo to raise and maintain funds to be expended on the President's personal behalf, nor so far as he knows, was this ever done."

But, citing numerous bank records, sworn testimony, bills from Florida contractors, White House staff memos and sworn testimony from a number of individuals, the report said: "There is evidence that the fund which Rebozo maintained in Florida consisted of campaign funds."

A check of Nixon's finances, including his income tax returns and a complete financial stattement the White House made public earlier, showed no evidence that Nixon had reimbursed Rebozo for the expenditures.

Rebozo ordered and paid for a total of $45,977 in improvements at Key Biscayne, including a new swimming pool, a golf putting green, a fireplace and a billiard table, the report said.

Rebozo has maintained that he kept the Hughes money untouched in a safe deposit box for three years before returning it. But the committee said there was considerable evidence some of the money was used in the Rebozo trust funds during that period.

Kissinger May Have Been Used

WASHINGTON (UPI) — J. Edgar Hoover, the late FBI Director, may have used Henry Kissinger's name without his knowledge in order to initiate wiretaps on persons the White House regarded as enemies, says Atty. Gen. William Saxbe.

The theory was supported by two Republican senators following the attorney general's testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday.

"It would be entirely reasonable for Mr. Kissinger not to know he was being used in this manner," Saxbe told reporters after the two-hour, closed meeting. "Hoover could have been acting on his own initiative."

If accepted by the committee, the theory would exonerate Kissinger of charges he ordered the wiretapping of government officials and newsmen to determine the source of security leaks.

At Kissinger's request, the committee has begun hearings on whether he testified accurately during confirmation hearings on his appointment as Secretary of State last fall.

He said then he did not request wiretaps by the White House "plumbers" and did not even know the unit existed.

Campaign Aid Cover-Up Charged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic candidates did not report at least $80,000 in campaign assistance provided by organized labor in this year's four special congressional elections, a Republican National Committee report charged today.

The draft GOP report found that dozens of AFL-CIO unions spent tens of thousands of dollars in so-called "in-kind" contributions in behalf of the four winning Democratic candidates.

It said failure of the candidates to report such "soft" contributions —as distinct from "hard" cash contributions — violated the 1971 campaign reform act.

The law defines contributions to be reported as including "the payment by any person other than a candidate or a political committee or compensation for the personal services of another person which are rendered to such candidate or committee without charge for any such purpose."

The report, a product of a secret month-long investigation, said the $80,000 figure was only the "barest minimum" that could be determined and that considerably more was spent by labor in "in-kind" assistance for the four races.

A draft copy of the report was made available to UPI by a highly placed Republican party official.

The investigation examined labor union support for these Democratic candidates who won House seats in special elections earlier this year: John Murtha of Pennsylvania, Richard Vander Veen and Robert Traxler of Michigan, and Tom Luken of Ohio.

According to the document, labor's in-kind assistance was provided in the form of computer time, voter registration and get-out-the-vote drives, telephone banks, paid staff time and mailings to union members.

The report concluded that labor's heavy involvement in the special elections was a crucial factor in the four upsets and that "given the lack of union involvement, we would probably have retained all seats."

"What it really amounted to was a colossal effort in behalf Democratic candidates by the union hierarchy ... to assure the Republican loss of special elections," the report said.

The unions have long contended that the law allows them to work among their own members for the election of congressional candidates.

Nixon Reportedly Can't Meet Mortgage Payment

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — President Nixon won't be able to meet a $600,000 mortgage payment that falls due Sunday on the Western White House at San Clemente, his lawyer said yesterday.

The final payment is due for both Nixon and a partnership by two friends, Robert Abplanalp and C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo, said attorney Dean Butler, and it will have to be refinanced.

In the complex financing of the purchase of his San Clemente villa, Nixon sold 23 acres of the 28.9-acre estate to the Rebozo-Abplanalp partnership, known as the B and C Investment Co., for $1.25 million.

Butler said the President's share of the upcoming payment is $226,440, and the partnership owes the remainder.

There is a problem in arranging refinancing, he said, because "the interest of the other owners in refinancing might be different from that of the President. It's a problem of isolating the interests to make them compatible."

He would not elaborate on how Nixon's interests may differ from those of his two friends.

Butler said he may apply for an extension on the payment date, or try to get a short term loan to meet it.

The extension agreement would have to be approved by the representatives of the estate which sold the house to Nixon and is due to receive the money. The estate's attorney was not available for comment.

Butler's law firm took over most of the President's personal affairs in California from Herbert Kalmbach, the close Nixon associate and chief fund raiser who went to prison last month for Watergate-related financial transactions.

He was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $62.50. But Judge Surat Ratanaudom reduced the jail term to six months after taking note of Ralston's guilty plea.

WEST COAST WEATHER

Rain, an unusual happening in Marin in July, has moved into other areas — the Pacific Northwest, Idaho and Nevada as shown on the National Environmental Satellite Service photo. Low clouds also covered the Los Angeles basin in the picture snapped yesterday. Also the map shows the remainder of California under a partial cloud covering, except for the desert area. (UPI Telephoto)

Three Key Bus Stops Proposed

Three Marin bus stations costing an estimated $750,000 were proposed yesterday by the staff of the Golden Gate Bridge District.

Each would be at a key point where passengers transfer between routes, stops now offering riders little or no shelter from the weather.

Most of their cost would come from Marin's share of federal highway funds.

Proposed were a $250,000 station under the southern end of the Richardson Bay Bridge, which would replace the present Marin City transfer point, a $300,000 station in San Rafael and a $200,000 station in Novato. The staff also suggested that $80,000 be spent for bus stops along the Novato freeway bypass.

Federal funds would cover 83 per cent of the cost, or $688,900. The remaining $141,100 would come from the state, county, cities or bridge district, the staff said.

In Sonoma County, it proposed a $1.3 million program, including $150,000 for bus shelters, $500,000 for 11 buses, $350,000 for parking at Petaluma, Cotati and Rohnert Park bus stops and $300,000 for a bus station in Santa Rosa.

The proposals came in a staff report to the transportation committee, but was not discussed because other business consumed the agenda.

The bulk of the funds would come from the Federal Aid Urban Program, which provides that the money can be spent for either highway or capital improvements for transit. Marin should get some $2.7 million during the three fiscal years starting this year, the staff said, and Sonoma should get about $1.8 million.

The spending would have to be approved by local governments, the bridge district, Metropolitan Transportation Commission and California Department of Transportation. Locally, it must be approved by a majority of cities in each county.

The federal program may be expanded to allow use of these funds to subsidize the operating costs of transit, the staff said.

Also postponed to a future committee session was a staff report on changes in bus service in Sonoma County. The changes will reduce travel time for commuters, get closer to riders' homes, provide new local service to such areas as Sonoma State and East Petaluma, and double service from hourly to half-hourly runs.

The changes probably will take 15 of the 32 new buses to go into service in October, the staff said.

Span Board Plans Minority Hirings

More than 90 per cent of the Golden Gate Bridge District's employees are men, and more than 80 per cent are white, but district officials promised yesterday to try to hire more women and minority workers. (Another bridge district story, page 1.)

Only 66 of the current 679 employees are women, and only 135 of the total work force are from minorities, officials reported.

Predicting the district will have 848 employees within three years, they said the "objective" will be to have 90 women by then (raising the percentage only from 9.7 to 10.6) and 202 minority workers (hiking the percentage from 19.9 to 23.8 per cent).

The report to the rules, policy and industrial relations committee acknowledged that even the three-year goals fall far short of the percentages for the work force in Marin, Sonoma and San Francisco. In the three counties, it said, 42 per cent of the work force is female and 31 per cent is nonwhite.

The report and goals were triggered by a federal government requirement that the district adopt an "affirmative action program" to assure equal employment opportunity for all workers, regardless of sex or ethnic or racial background.

The report said that of the current employees, 544 (80.11 per cent) are white, 73 (10.75 per cent) black; 28 (4.12 per cent) Oriental, three (.44 per cent) American Indian, and 31 (4.56 per cent) "Spanish ethnic."

The district's 18-member board of directors never has included a woman. It had one black and has one Mexican-American.

The committee also met behind closed doors for 30 minutes to instruct its staff on negotiations with the Teamsters Union, which represents employees who service the bus fleet.

Community Colleges To Offer Med Care

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill authorizing community colleges to provide medical and hospitalization services for students was signed yesterday by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The measure (SB2108) by Sen. Robert S. Stevens, R-Los Angeles, also places a $10 fee limit on the services.

Chilean Paper Fined By Junta

SANTIAGO (UPI) — The newspaper La Segunda was fined $121 yesterday by the Chilean military government for "disrespect" to the governing military junta.

Government press spokesman Federico Willoughby said the fine was because La Segunda had published "unfounded news" and shown "disrespect for the junta."

Southern Pacific To Abandon One Track

Southern Pacific will move within two months to abandon its track south of San Rafael, it was disclosed yesterday.

The line, the last survivor of a 19th Century rail network south of San Rafael, has been cut back in stages over recent years so that it now is used only as far as the Handi-Kup Co. of Corte Madera.

The imminent abandonment of the line was reported by the Golden Gate Bridge District's special project coordinator, John Schellenberger Jr.

Officials of the railroad have informed the district that they will file for abandonment "probably within the next two months" with the Interstate Commerce Commission, he said. The railroad "expects such action to be completed successfully in about six months," Shellenberger reported to the district's transportation committee.

The line long has been eyed by the district for future bus transit use to avoid freeway delays. The tunnel to San Rafael is wide enough to accommodate two bus lanes and is in good condition, Shellenberger said.

"Southern Pacific has determined that operation of this section of track is no longer economically profitable to the railroad, and that alternative forms of service could be provided," Shellenberger said.

He noted that the abandonment would save the bridge district the $350,000 cost of rebuilding the railroad trestle across East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The present trestle is too narrow to accommodate increased traffic expected on the road to the Larkspur ferry terminal.

Shellenberger also noted that the latest track abandonment "means that the district would have the opportunity for an exclusive, separated right-of-way into San Rafael from the Alto Hill area." This, however, presumably would require construction of a new bridge for the busway across East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, thus the cost saving would only be temporary.

The district board plans to seek federal funds to acquire the abandoned railroad rights-of-way for the busway.

The Tie Gives Police The Clue

COLLINSVILLE, Conn. (UPI) — Police arrested a man for waving his tie at passersby from the doorway of a Collinsville bar —while wearing nothing else.

Police said Ronald D. Kittredge, 25, of Winsted, Conn., was spotted nude yesterday by an off-duty patrolman who arrested him for public indecency.

When he was told to return to the bar and put on his clothes, he escaped through a rear entrance. He was recaptured a short time later.

Storm Fells Trees

HELSINKI (UPI) — A thunder and lightning storm early today toppled an estimated 20,000 trees in a 700-acre area of central Finland.

Push For Death Penalty In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Alabama Atty. Gen. William J. Baxley is trying to revive the death penalty in Alabama by using an old law calling for the execution of prisoners who commit murder while serving life sentences.

Baxley will argue that inmate Johnny Harris, a 28-year-old Negro serving five life sentences for rape and robbery, should be put to death for killing guard Luell Barrow during an Atmore prison farm disturbance in January.

WHAT WAS THAT RATTLE IN THE ENGINE?

Neal Roepke got a surprise when he checked under the hood of his car Tuesday. He found a snake coiled around the oil dipstick base. Roger Fox is pictured removing the five-foot long black, brown and grey snake from Roepke's car. The snake was taken to the city dog pound until its fate is decided. (UPI Telephoto)

Per Capita Water Use Drop Noted

Per capita water consumption in the Marin Municipal Water District has dropped in the last four years, district directors learned yesterday. (Another water district story, page 1.)

In 1970, according to Gen. Mgr. J. Dietrich Stroeh, the average person in the district used 171 gallons per day. Today that figure has dropped to 148 gallons, he said.

Stroeh attributed the decrease to increased water rates, Marin Municipal's water conservation program and cooler summers in the past few years. Also contributing to the drop in water use is a larger percentage of multiple housing in the district and upgrading of the district's system to eliminate leaks.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

APPEAL — Reaffirmed its intention to appeal Judge E. Warren McGuire's recent decision striking down the district's ban on new connections. The vote was 3-2, with Directors John M. MacPhail Jr. and William J. Filante dissenting. The appeal actually was filed Monday, but newly-elected district directors asked for a chance to express their views on it.

VARIANCE — Granted a variance from the district's ban on new connections for 14 apartment units on Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael.

FEES — Approved payment of $795 to attorney Douglas R. Ferguson for work during June and $320 to Attorney Tom Thorner for work from May 23 to June 22.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned until 7:30 p.m. today when a workshop on water rates will be held in the district office.

Miners Killed

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI) — Four miners died at the potash mines in nearby Cardona today when their elevator crashed 200 feet to the bottom of a shaft, police said.

New York Abortion Abuses Studied

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ellen Odoner, 22, an investigator for the Consumer Affairs Department, snuck in a substitute sample supplied by a male fellow-employe when asked for a urine sample at an abortion clinic pregnancy exam. Nevertheless, she was told she was pregnant.

"The doctor said the test results were positive and he would put me through an abortion that afternoon if I had the money in my hand," Miss Odoner testified yesterday at a hearing on abuses of New York State's abortion law.

Later, the department ran its own tests on the sample submitted by attorney Steven Newman. The results were negative.

"He was relieved to find out he wasn't pregnant," Miss Odoner said.

Her experience was part of a three-month investigation that disclosed failure by some referral agencies to give pregnancy tests, abortions performed in some clinics on women who were not pregnant, and widespread unsanitary conditions, according to Commissioner Elinor Guggenheimer.

Improper activities by some clinics have been a problem since the state's laws were liberalized in 1970 to allow abortion on demand in private or public facilities in the first three months of pregnancy, the commissioner said.

"I am sure that most abortion clinics are run reputably," Mrs. Guggenheimer said, "but our investigation has uncovered some that are not, and those clinics should be prosecuted."

She said, "One facility told our investigator that after the abortion she would 'feel like a virgin again.' Now that has to be a deceptive statement."

Patrolwoman Bill Is Signed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill putting legal impetus behind the highway patrol's experimental plan for hiring women officers was signed yesterday by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The bill (SB1859) by Sen. Lawrence Walsh, D-Downey, calls for a two-year "feasibility study" of the program.

The highway patrol last month ended its 45-year history of male-only officers by accepting applicants from women to fill about 40 cadet slots.

Special Election Called For Oct. 8

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A special election to fill a vacant San Francisco Assembly seat was called for Oct. 8 by Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday.

The seat was left open when Democrat John Burton was elected to Congress in June.

If no candidate received more than 50 per cent of the vote in the October election, a runoff will be held in conjunction with the Nov. 5 general election.

Heart Massage Course Planned

The Marin County Heart Association in conjunction with the American Red Cross will hold a public course in external heart massage Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Red Cross office, 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

The course is free but interested persons must register with the heart association.

Paper Mill Workers Go On Strike

VANCOUVER (UPI) — About half of the 38,000 coastal workers in the British Columbia forest industry were on strike today after a marathon mediation session yesterday failed to resolve their contract disputes.

Provincial Labor Minister Bill King met with representatives of the unions and forest companies for 14 hours yesterday but failed to reach any agreement. King said talks may resume, although no sessions are scheduled.

About 16,000 of the 32,000 coastal woodworkers, members of the International Woodworkers of America (IWA), went on strike Monday.

They were joined yesterday by 4,000 of the province's 12,000 pulp workers, members of the Pulp, Paper and Woodworkers of Canada (PPWC) and the United Paperworkers International Union (UPIU).

"It looks like the entire pulp section will go out," a spokesman for the pulp and paper industrial relations bureau, which represents the 120 companies involved said late yesterday.

The PUIU scheduled a press conference for today, but it was not known what announcement would be made.

The IWA walkout followed a narrow rejection vote on a one-year contract offering 12 per cent raises—with a minimum raise of 65 cents an hour—on hourly base rates of $4.45 plus a cost of living adjustment and other benefits.

The PPWC and the PUIU have been pressing for wage revisions also.

The strike has forced the closure of 19 of the 23 paper mills in British Columbia.

Home Burgled

TOPANGA (UPI) — The home of 28-year-old jazz singer Billy Preston was burglarized of $18,000 worth of clothing and stereo and recording equipment, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Consultant Proposed On Cable TV Rates

The San Rafael Citizens Advisory Committee on Cable Television last night decided the city should hire a consultant to review the rate structure and services offered by Tele-Vue Systems, Inc.

Committee chairman Ronald Coelyn said today the group feels professional assistance is needed to examine the impact of cable television on San Rafael as well as a rate hike request by Tele-Vue, which holds the municipal cable franchise.

Coelyn said the committee wants Tele-Vue to share in the expense of hiring a consultant. In addition, other Marin cities who contract with Tele-Vue should share consultant fees, since all will benefit by the study, he said.

The committee will present its recommendations to the city council at 8 p.m. Monday, he said.

Kilgallen's Son Nabbed For Drugs

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kerry Aren Kollmar, 20, son of the late Dorothy Kilgallen and Richard Kollmar, was arrested yesterday on a charge of selling two ounces cocaine to a federal agent.

Kollmar, whose parents were the "Dorothy and Dick" radio team, was released on $10,000 bond pending a hearing July 30.

Half-Way Home

MOSCOW (UPI) — The two Soyuz-14 cosmonauts, in their seventh day aboard the Salyut-3 orbiting space laboratory, have almost completed half their mission, the Tass news agency said today.

Sonny Barger Conviction Holds

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The District Court of Appeal yesterday affirmed the conviction of Hell's Angel leader Ralph (Sonny) Barger on narcotics charges.

Barger had appealed his conviction on grounds of judicial error by Superior Court.

He was convicted in March on charges of possession of heroin for sale, possession of cocaine, possession of secobarbital and possession of marijuana.

The motorcyclist said he was wrongfully denied a change of venue on grounds of adverse publicity.

Spacecraft Tested

VANDENBERG AFB (UPI) — The Air Force Space and Missile Test Center launched a research and development reentry vehicle today down the Western Test Range.

GAINS CLEARANCE — Singer Frank Sinatra, with companion Barbara Marx (far right) boards his private jet at Sydney, Australia, for Melbourne. Australia's trade unions agreed today to let Sinatra continue his tour. (UPI Telephoto)

Australian Unions Agree To Let Sinatra Continue Tour

SYDNEY (UPI) — Australian unions agreed today to permit Frank Sinatra to continue his concert tour after keeping him a virtual prisoner in a Sydney hotel room because of his blistering attack against reporters.

After a four-hour meeting among Sinatra, his lawyer Milton Rudin, and Australian Council of Trade Unions president Bob Hawke, a joint statement was issued in which Sinatra said he did not intend any general reflection upon the moral character of Australian journalists.

The singer did reserve the right to continue to comment upon the quality of their work.

Hawke emerged from the conference at Sinatra's hotel to announce that the tour would continue.

"It's on," he told newsmen.

The unions said they had no desire to embarrass Sinatra.

Hawke said union leaders had authorized him to say they would ask their members to desist from action to stop the rest of the tour or to prevent Sinatra's leaving the country afterwards.

Sinatra had threatened legal action because of the boycott.

Rudin earlier told a news conference Sinatra "has nothing to apologize for" and that the music star was wrong in considering Australia a "true free democracy."

Australian union members imposed a ban on the controversial singer, forcing cancellation of at least one performance in his $675,000 tour, denying him hotel room service and cutting off fuel for his private jet.

In Canberra, Immigration Minister Clyde Cameron said today he would attempt to block Sinatra from visiting Australia again. "If he wanted to come again and I could stop him, I certainly would," Cameron said.

The controversy exploded Tuesday night in Melbourne when stocky guards roughed up cameramen before a concert. Sinatra later told the audience that newsmen were "bums" and women reporters "hookers."

"They are pimps, they are just crazy you know," he said. "The hookers, the broads who work for the press, are the hookers of the press. Need I say that to you. I might offer them a buck and a half, I'm not sure."

The singer said he was shocked by the news printed by Australian reporters and added, "Most are a bunch of fags anyway —a pox on them."

Attorney Rudin held his news conference at Sydney's Boulevard Hotel, where the singer remained isolated above in his suite.

"Mr. Sinatra regretted the incidents, which have been blown out of proportion," Ruden said.

Why Inmates Reject Taking Own Lives

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A psychiatrist told a federal court yesterday that hard-pressed convicts reject suicide because they believe taking their own lives would be a victory for prisons.

Dr. Lee Coleman said that suicide eventually comes to the mind of persons whom he held were "brutalized" in prison, but is rejected as a "victory for the prison system."

Dr. Coleman was in U.S. District Court for a suit by six convicts who contend their confinement to an adjustment center at San Quentin Prison is cruel and unusual punishment, and therefore, unconstitutional.

He had interviews with all the six plaintiffs: Fleeta Drumgo, 28; Hugo Pinell, 29; Willie Tate, 29; David Johnson, 26; Luis Talamentez, 31; and Johnny Spain, 24.

The suit is against the state Department of Corrections.

Peru Maintains Claim To 200-Mile Sea Limit

CARACAS (UPI) — Peru, which has seized a number of American fishing boats over the past decade, told the Third U.N. Law of the Sea Conference today that it would not back down on its claim to sole jurisdiction over a 200-mile offshore zone.

Peruvian Ambassador Juan Miguel Bakula described as a "Trojan horse" the concept of a 200-mile economic zone favored by the maritime powers under which coastal states would have sole jurisdiction over the first 12 miles with the other 188 miles open to fishing and exploitation by other nations.

Bakula told the meeting that the developing countries would become "a simple spectator or excecutor of decisions taken by other states" if they accepted the economic zone concept.

"The offering of such a proposal reminds us, and we cannot avoid it, of the legendary story of the Trojan horse," he said.

Peru, along with Chile and Ecuador, asserted a 200-mile jurisdiction in 1952. The United States rejected the claim.

During the past decade, more than 200 U.S. fishing vessels, most of them tuna boats from San Diego, have been seized for entering the waters claimed by Peru and Ecuador.

Arizona Industry Growth Sets Mark

PHOENIX (UPI) — Arizona's growth in manufacturing employment was the greatest in the nation for the decade, 1962-72.

Statistics reported by the Valley National Bank showed Arizona's employment in the manufacturing field climbed from 55,200 in 1962 to 97,200 in 1972, a gain of 76 per cent.

SHADOW SHOW AT CIVIC CENTER

The main entrance archway and a rising road frame a silhouetted visitor to Marin County Civic Center. This stark play of light and shadow at the ordinarily colorful showplace of Marin was captured yesterday by Independent-Journal photographer Alfred M. Arn. That octagonal shape, its message obscured, is a stop sign.

FBI Can't Find Patty But Vows To Keep Trying

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI director Clarence M. Kelley today said his bureau still does not know the whereabouts of newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst or fugitive members of the Symbionese Liberation Army (SLA).

Kelley, however, vowed that "we will prevail" in solving the case.

The FBI chief, who was holding his second major news conference since assuming command of the investigative agency a year ago, said the FBI does not even know whether Miss Hearst and the SLA members are in this country.

"We do not know whether or not they are out of the country," Kelley said. "We do not know where she is."

Kelley defended the FBI investigation in early stages of the Hearst case.

Asked about reports that the FBI could have made early arrests by staking out a bank where one SLA member had a checking account, Kelley said agents were needed for other things and there was not enough available information to show a stakeout might pay off.

Abrams Leaves Reed

Three Major Strikes Continue To Cripple Bay Area Sections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Crippling strikes by bus drivers, nurses and carpenters dragged on today.

Little or no progress was reported in negotiations aimed at settling the strikes against the AC Transit District, Stanford University Hospital and Northern California contractors. Talks are mainly concerned with wage and fringe benefit hikes.

A strike by bus drivers against the AC Transit District went into its 10th day here, stranding hundreds of thousands of East San Francisco Bay commuters.

State mediator Thomas Nicolopulos said talks reached an "impasse" yesterday when transit officials turned down an offer by 1,650 Amalgamated Transit Union drivers to return to work under the terms of the old contract until a new agreement is settled.

Bill Curry, AC Transit spokesman, said the old contract would have provided an immediate 41-cent raise, "which we could not afford."

The district currently is operating at a $4 million deficit.

Nicolopulos said negotiations would continue today but that "we're still a long way from home."

Nearly 25,000 carpenters and 15,000 building tradesmen continued their strike against the Associated General Contractors in 46 Northern California counties.

Although the 400-member contractor's association has settled contracts with masons, dump truck drivers and iron workers, no significant progress was reported in talks aimed at ending the three and a half week strike by carpenters.

The carpenters are demanding a nearly $2 per hour pay increase and a 90-cent hike in fringe benefits. Negotiations eventually will affect 45,000 carpenters and masons.

Meanwhile a walkout by Southern California carpenters has shut down construction projects with an estimated value of $3 billion.

Nurses at Stanford University Hospital were on the picket line for the ninth straight day today and no significant developments were reported in negotiations.

More than 700 registered nurses are striking the Palo Alto hospital, seeking a 16 per cent pay boost in their current salary, which ranges from $860 to $1,035 per month.

Oil Nations Investment Unit Formed

CAIRO (UPI) — The 10-nation Organization of Arab Petroleum Exporting Countries agreed today to form a billion-dollar company for investment of petroleum earnings.

The company, with a capital of about $1.2 billion, "will finance joint projects in both member states and outside," Saudi Arabian Oil Minister Sheikh Ahmad Zaki Yamani said.

Yamani, chairman of OAPEC, said it wanted to "spend some money on world technological progress."

He said the question of a petroleum services company, for exploration and development of oil fields in Arab states, had been postponed for discussion "at a later date."

Yamani said the conference had discussed a report on energy which "gave no views, but lots of figures."

"The energy situation is still vague," Yamani said. "We don't know if the world will be able to avoid a severe crisis or find a substitute for oil..."

He said Saudi Arabia "will cooperate with its Arab brethren to find what are the alternative sources for energy other than oil —if any."

Three Girls Making Fair Sweetheart Bid

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Three Southern Sonoma girls will compete at 7 p.m. Monday for the Future Farmers of America sweetheart title at the Sonoma County Fair.

They are: Loretta Cheda, 17, of 3272 Old Adobe Road, Petaluma; Kathy Tremari, 18, of 5775 Bloomfield Road, Petaluma, and Linda Thornton, 17, of Tomales.

The girls are among 11 contestants from school FFA chapters around the county.

Judging will take place in the Redwood Outdoor Theater at the fairgrounds. The winner will be chosen on the basis of appearance, scholarship, social adjustment, poise and stage appearance, according to a fair spokesman.

Miss Cheda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cheda, is a June graduate of Petaluma High School and enjoys raising dairy animals and doing needlework.

Miss Tremari, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alessio Tremari has in past years shown beef cattle at the fair. She is a Tomales High School graduate whose hobbies include swimming and cooking.

Miss Thornton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thornton, is also a Tomales High School graduate who plays the piano, swims, sews and cooks.

The contest is the highlight of the fair's opening night. The annual event will continue its 13-day run through July 27.

Council To Meet

The Sausalito City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. today in council chambers, will discuss an open space measure planned for the November ballot, the city administration has announced.

Petaluma Attorney Is Named

I-J Special Report

STOCKTON — Matthew L. Hudson, 30, deputy counsel for San Joaquin County, has accepted the newly created full-time city attorney position in Petaluma.

Hudson said today he will begin work on August 5.

The city council is expected to confirm his appointment at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Monday.

Hudson will replace Edouard E. Robert, a Petaluma lawyer who has held the city post part time the last 18 years.

Hudson is a graduate of the Boalt Hall School of Law at the University of California at Berkeley and has served in the San Joaquin County post about three and a half years.

He and his wife, Kate, have a three-year-old daughter and a 10-month-old son.

King's Assassin Gets Court Date

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Convicted assassin James Earl Ray will get a chance Sept. 30 to try to prove in court his contention that he was coerced by his own attorneys into pleading guilty to the shooting death of Martin Luther King Jr.

Ray, who wants a new trial, pleaded guilty in 1969 to the 1968 assassination of the civil rights leader and was sentenced to 99 years in prison.

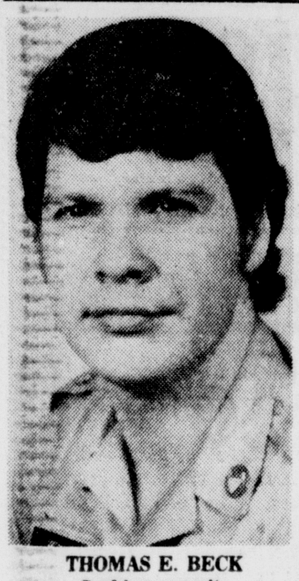
RESERVIST'S VIEWS

It's Hard To Sell Army Now



THOMAS E. BECK
Seeking recruits

By FRED STREBEIGH

Selling membership in the Army Reserve is a tougher job than it used to be, even though the reserve these days is more like a congenial club than the tough system of the past.

And it's getting more and more so, according to Sp/4 Thomas E. Beck of San Francisco.

Beck, 27, is manager of the San Francisco branch of the Craig Agency, a Chicago-based employment agency.

But for the last two weeks he has left his usual clients — corporations including Crown Zellerbach and All State Insurance — to recruit for the U.S. Army Reserve's 91st Division, head-quartered at Fort Baker near Sausalito.

Beck joined the reserves during the Vietnam years along with thousands of men, he says, to avoid the draft. The reserves always had a long list of applicants then.

But with the end of the war and the advent of an all-volunteer military, enlistments have dropped dramatically. And, as many men's six-year terms of service come to an end, the Reserves are slipping below full strength.

Beck has found that his two-week stint selling the reserves — his assigned summer duty — has not been easy.

"To many people, the word 'military' is a dirty word," he said. "I've had problems with people — such as labor unions — who should support the reserves. Nobody will actually tell us no, but everybody will offer us a mile of red tape."

He said that the military's reputation for hard discipline is probably partly responsible for the general aversion to service.

But the reserves, he said, isn't that way these days. "It's all common sense. You can always find out why you have to do what you do."

On the other hand, Beck said, following orders is still an essential and valuable lesson learned in the Reserves.

"People fail to understand that the military is an organization which follows orders," he said. "Until someone can find a simpler way to move something as big as the Army, it's a good system.

"And the definition of a good system is one that works."

But a good system also changes, he said, and change is under way.

The biggest change he foresees is an increase in the number of women in the Reserves. They are, he said, being offered dramatic incentives to join, including a reduction in minimum active duty time from four months to two weeks.

With more women in the Reserves, Beck said, "there's going to be a drastic effect on the mentality involved — the mentality of the men has got to change. They're going to have to clean up their language."

"To even think about a girl being in the band blows my mind," said Beck, whose usual duty with the reserves is blowing a tuba one weekend each month with the 91st Division band.

Whether you're a musician or a mechanic in the reservies, Beck said, "enjoying your job is what it's all about."

"I enjoy the job that I do. I like playing in the band, but I'm not a professional musician. Where else would I get this chance?

"It's like a hobby. It's like a club, and I think you're going to see the Reserves turning more and more like that with women.

"And incidentally — the kinds of girls we're recruiting. We're recruiting some pretty decent looking girls into the reserves.

"And it certainly gives a guy an incentive to stay."

404 Guard Weapons Stolen Since 1971

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A total of 404 weapons, including grenade launchers and submachine guns, have been stolen in the past three years in break-ins at six California National Guard armories, a state military official reported yesterday.

Lt. Col. Andrew Wolf said, however, that of the total, 114 weapons had been recovered by the military or local law enforcement officiers.

Asked if there had been a surge in burglaries in light of the theft of 112 weapons last Thursday at an armory in Compton, Wolf replied, "There has been no recent surge. But obviously the loss of one weapon is one too many."

"You can see we've only had six break-ins involving weapons being stolen since 1971 and they occurred with one in 1971, two in 1972, one in 1973 and two this year," Wolf said.

In addition to the Compton robbery, four M-60 machine guns were taken earlier this year in Red Bluff.

Asked to comment on the possibility terrorrorists may have engineered the Compton theft, Wolf said, "I wouldn't want to speculate as to whom might be involved in this." He added the FBI was in charge of the case.

The weapons stolen since 1971 include 97 M-14 rifles, 17 M-60 machine guns, nine M-79 grenade launchers, 19 .45 caliber submachine guns and 108 .45 caliber pistols.

Wolf also said that all of the 140 armory installations in the state "have or will have installed electronic intrusion devices.

French Donation To Bicentennial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said yesterday that France will build a sound and light show at Mount Vernon, the historic Virginia home of George Washington, to help celebrate the U.S. bicentennial anniversary in 1976.

The White House said French ambassador Jacques Kosciusko-Morizet was carrying word of the contribution to President Nixon and that he was bringing a letter to Nixon from French President Vallery Giscard d'Estang outlining the plans.

The White House said the donation to the bicenntenial activities was the first by a foreign nation.

A Mother's Gain From A Great Loss

By JOAN LISETOR

"When you come down to it, you have to give up your child one way or another, but you want to give the child up to life not death," said the Novato mother, who has written the book, "Ellen: A Short Life Long Remembered."

Ellen's mother has written about the last two years of her daughter's life from an early evening in December of 1970, when at the age of 15, Ellen was diagnosed as having cancer until an October night when she lost her battle.

The mother has used the pen name Rose Levit to protect her privacy, the privacy of her family and the many people involved in Ellen's life.

"Originally I wrote the book in the third person, but the publisher (Chronicle Books) wanted it in the first person. I could have taken it to other publishers, but that would have meant sending it to New York," Mrs. Levit said.

REWRITING IN the first person, Mrs. Levit said, additional material about Ellen's early childhood fell into place. She also found she had to describe motives, and it all gave her a terrible feeling about giving up her privacy.

Characters in the book have been given pseudonyms, and one of them, Ellen's doctor, was the one who suggested she write down her thoughts following Ellen's death. Shortly after that she was interviewed by a University of California Medical Center psychiatrist who was doing a study of parents whose children had died at home. She realized after the interview that Ellen's story had not been told.

"I had left Ellen's room as it was until Memorial Day, when I went in and went through the drawers. I found letters she had written but never sent, and I wondered what the reason was she didn't destroy them," Mrs. Levit said.

"I had a strong feeling the letters she left, she wanted me to find."

Later she got back letters from other friends of Ellen's and a journal Ellen had kept with her sister. All helped to tell Ellen's story.

The letters dealt with personal matters, problems in the family and in her dealings with doctors, nurses and hospitals, but still Mrs. Levit said, she was driven to write the book. During the first two weeks she was teaching school, so she wrote through the night. She wrote day and night after school was out and finished the book in six weeks.

HER FAMILY acknowledges that she had to write the book, but they have been adamant that it was her story and did not describe their experiences or feelings.

Mostly, she said, she wrote the book to give Ellen some continuancy of life, but there were other reasons.

"It is important for doctors and professional people to have some notion of the understanding Ellen's doctor had, and most other doctors do not have," she said.

"Ellen knew when someone was coming through for her and when they weren't. She could tell when people were drawing away, but she felt strongly that most people came through, and where they didn't she understood. Where she didn't understand and was critical was of doctors, not friends."

What the book is saying is death is inevitable for all of us, but, Mrs. Levit said, "I think a lot of parents are not ready to hear that when their child is very sick.

"Hope is useful and necessary, but you keep thinking, 'It is going to be different for us. We are going to make it.' Hope is so important. As long as you keep on hoping, you keep fighting, but when you give up hope you make peace."

IN THE BOOK Mrs. Levit also deals with the problems in her marriage and those she was having coping with her older daughter's life in another culture. Ellen's father and sister returned to the home, and they were great supports during Ellen's illness.

"Don't grieve for me or feel sorry for me. My only deep regret is for what Ellen missed," Mrs. Levit said. "As a human being I came out of it greatly enriched, but in terms of what Ellen gave up, the price is too great."

The book, she said, is her way of thumbing her nose at fate, saying, "She is going to live."

GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

He's Concerned Because Girl Kisses With Her Eyes Open

RAP:

My girlfriend kisses with her eyes open. Is something wrong with her? I thought everybody kissed with their eyes closed. — BARNEY, WHO DOES

BARNEY:

You've been peeking! Many people kiss with their eyes open. Stop worrying, as long as you enjoy. — SUE

DEAR BARNEY:

Maybe your girlfriend figures if she kisses with her eyes open she'll marry the same way. — HELEN

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

Since December 1, 1973, I've been in prison, and I'm sentenced to 15 years. That's a long time and it gets lonely. I was receiving little or no mail and it was really getting me down.

So I wrote to 95 colleges across the country (got the addresses in the prison library), and now I'm writing to 36 chicks from all over the states. Sometimes I receive ten letters in a single day!

If anyone is lonely, whether he's in jail or not, I suggest he or she try it. The letters go on the bulletin boards, or maybe in the college papers, and bingo — a jackpot! — STEVE: SHELTON, WASH.

RAP:

My mother keeps saying I have to be nice, but I won't accept her!

She was my dad's secretary, and she's the same age as my older sister. Because of her, he moved out of our house four times, and each time Mom took him back after his fling. But this time he really went through with the divorce and now he wants me to come and visit them. No way!

Another reason I have disowned my father is that he will have nothing to do with my sister because she is living with a guy and he says that's "immoral." But look what he did!

Must I go to see them? — J.L.P., Age 12

DEAR J:

Feeling the way you do, a visit to your father's place would be a disaster. Let's hope your mother doesn't push these visits until you're ready for them — which could be several years. — HELEN AND SUE

RAP:

I'm writing in answer to the pitiful letter that "Victim" wrote you concerning her rape. It's disgusting to hear how her husband felt about "sharing" her. Doesn't he realize that she had to share him with all the lovelies who guided his puberty initiation rites? — and he wasn't forced, either!

The fact that he couldn't decide whether or not to believe she "secretly didn't enjoy it" was another dandy blow. If this leads to a divorce, maybe she's well rid of this chauvinist.

If you don't mind an opinion from a 17-year-old, I'd like to suggest she get into a woman's group that will offer emotional aid and understanding. Some of these women have perhaps suffered the same indignities and will share a mutual trust with her, so that she can learn to trust men again.

My best friend had a somewhat similar experience when she was 16. Her boyfriend pressed her into sex relations. He refused to use any contraceptive protection because he said it "wasn't natural." When she got pregnant, he said he'd pay for the abortion, but he ended up running off with another girl. She was to meet him at the clinic, and he never showed up! This mistake cost her a lot of self-respect and heartache, and also $250.

Fortunately she found a woman's group (not the wild, man-hating kind!) and got straightened out. Believe me, your sisters can help most when you're abandoned by a man! — C.P.

Balloon Good For Trip To Disneyland

A balloon bearing the name of Mill Valley resident Robert Tong landed in Pumpkin Center, 242 miles south of San Rafael near Bakersfield on June 25, winning the 18-year-old Tong a trip to Disneyland.

"Fund-raisers get to be a drag . . . the same things over and over," said Debbie Williams, soon-to-be installed worthy advisor of the sponsoring balloon lifters, the San Rafael Rainbow Girls Assembly 195. So on June 2 the members released over 1,900 balloons from San Rafael High School, prompting calls, said Miss Williams, from residents of Marin hill areas trying to find out where the mass of colored balloons came from.

Tong won his two-day trip because his balloon travelled the farthest distance, and Miss Williams reports that they've had calls from nearly 200 balloon finders south of the Bay Area.

Beth Fegan of Mill Valley sold the winning ticket to Fong, who is as yet undecided about when to travel to Disneyland.

Getting Rid Of A Double Chin

To make a double chin appear to disappear, according to cosmetic authority Max Factor, begin the makeup routine by drawing a line from one ear lobe to the other along the jawline.

Select a deeper tone of make up or a brownish tone of blusher. Once this guideline has been established, apply some more of the shader directly below it, gently blending down the neck until it is impossible to distinguish any line of demarcation.

Continue the make up regi- [illegible] foundation and complete all make up accents as usual.

The Family Pattern Of The Future

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
UPI Family Editor
(Second of three articles)

The families of the future will be neither patriarchal nor matriarchal. That is, neither the wife nor the husband will be the official boss — having the last word. But, there will be exceptions.

These families also will get into the child-bearing arena through mutual decisions. If that, indeed, becomes so, we may be heading for the "era of the wanted child."

Sociologists say the wanted child never becomes an abused child.

When opting for children, the future family leaders like "two" best.

The patterns for the families of the future were reported by finalists in the search for the Betty Crocker 1974 All American Family Leader of Tomorrow. They did their saying in a survey conducted by United Press International.

THE FIRST place winner, Susan Lynn Van Wechel, of Portland, Ore., did not follow the pattern when she answered the questions about who would be the boss — have the last word.

"In my family my husband will have the final authority in all family matters," she said.

"Although we will work together on decisions, he will be the one who actually makes the choice. I feel this is necessary to avoid conflicts and is also somehow a natural order which I intend to follow."

Well, Miss Van Wechel might as well have taken her stand with a chorus of boo-boo-boo from all the other finalists saying their marriages would be ruled as a kind of democracy — with neither spouse holding the upper hand.

Listen to what some other entrants said:

From New Orleans, La., James Barney Kilpatrick, second place winner, put it on the line, "Each partner will have an equal say in all decisions." If there are children in his marriage, the male runner-up in the competition expects no more than two around the family table. The first place winner agrees on that — having said that "although the number is difficult to predict," she would like to limit her family to two.

From Rockville, Md., Patricia Mary Burke reported that in her marriage the last word should be a compromise, not one person over the other. She would like six children or thereabouts "if I feel that I can afford to bring them up."

From Benton, Ark., Laura Ann Hollenbeck holds the view that there will "be no boss" in her future family. Now if a situation arose when one family member had to make the last word, she would throw the responsibility to hubby — "But only if his decision did not sacrifice some value of mine." If his decision was that way, a compromise would be in order. Miss Hollenbeck probably will have two children.

FROM CENTRAL Square, N.Y., Nancy Jo Baldwin said — on the boss question: "Marriage is a mutual bond of respect and love. In light of that, neither my husband nor myself would be boss. We'd both be in charge and all decisions will be made by mutual agreement."

From Cincinnati, the Ohio family leader, Joe Arden Porter told of who will be boss in his family. "All decisions will be a joint responsibility, there will be no last word."

From Volga, Iowa, Mary F. O'Brien, the Iowa Future Family Leader, reports that "no one" will be boss or have the last word in the family if and when she marries. On children, she said —"Personally I would prefer one to three children. However, my husband and I will together decide how many to have."

New Carpeting Is Mothproofed

Insect control for carpeing was, in the past, a problem. Today all wool and wool blend carpeting is mothproofed during manufacture, and insect problems have been practically eliminated.

Wool carpet more than three yars old or not labeled moth proof can be treated occasionally with an insecticide for moths. Regular, good housekeeping is also a preventive measure. Frequent vacuuming of all rugs and the periodic airing of smaller ones will discourage pests.

Rugs and carpets made of synthetic fibers are naturally resistant to moths and carpet beetles.

Party Favors

Keep kiddies happy and avoid fights at parties by giving everyone identical party favors.

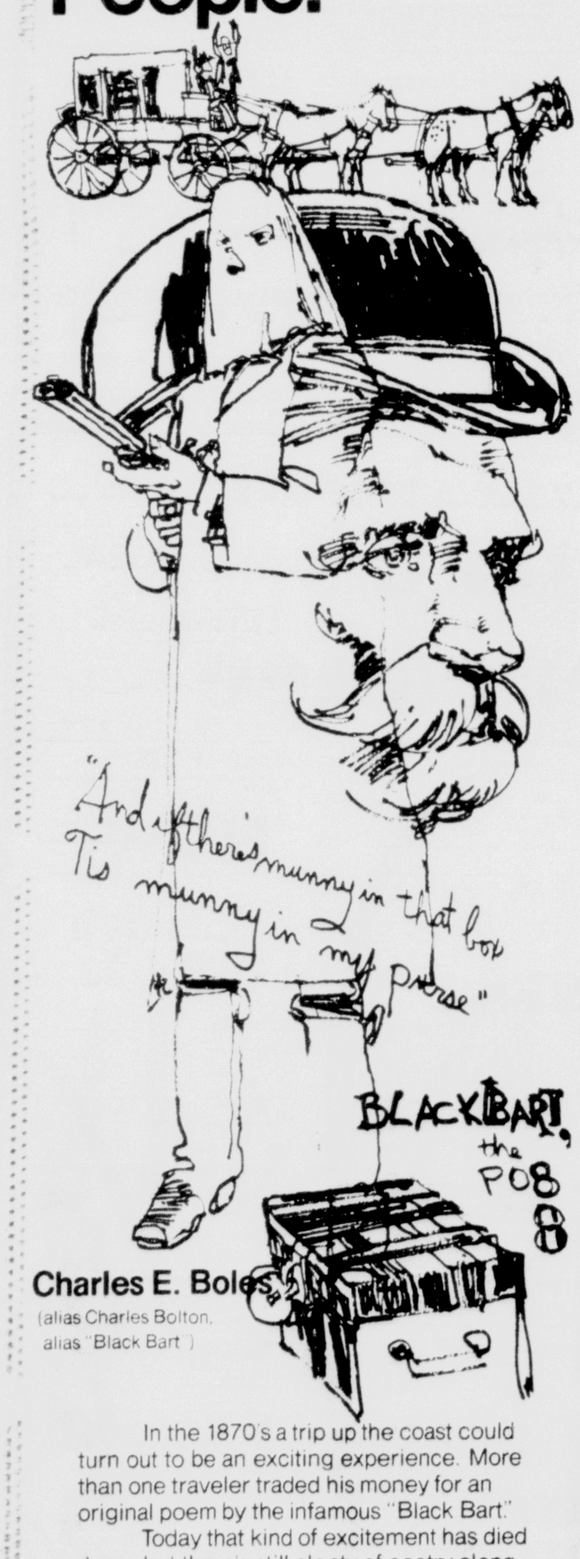
Saw, Then Wash

All meat and poultry that has been cut on a band saw should be washed and dried before packaging for freezing.

Something New

To go with capes, easy to carry clutch bags are new for fall 1974. One is a miniature version of a doctor's bag.

Sea Ranch People:



Charles E. Boles
(alias Charles Bolton, alias "Black Bart")

In the 1870's a trip up the coast could turn out to be an exciting experience. More than one traveler traded his money for an original poem by the infamous "Black Bart."

Today that kind of excitement has died down, but there's still plenty of poetry along The Sea Ranch coast. And if your taste runs to Robinson Jeffers rather than Black Bart it could be you're a Sea Ranch person too.

We now have many properties available, including forest and ocean view sites outside the permit zone, and new ocean view homes with several floor plans. Come join us—and meet some Sea Ranch people this weekend!

'MISUNDERSTOOD'

Black Movie Labels Miff Cosby

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — What happens when black superstars band together to make a film? They are misunderstood, asserts comedian Bill Cosby.

The film is "Uptown Saturday Night," and it stars Sidney Poitier, Cosby, Harry Belafonte, Flip Wilson, Richard Pryor, Calvin Lockhart, Roscoe Lee Browne, Paula Kelly and others.

Poitier put the project together and directed it for First Artists, in which he is a partner with Barbra Streisand, Steve McQueen, Dustin Hoffman and Paul Newman.

"Uptown Saturday Night;' opened to excellent business in New York and Chicago, but some of the reviews have been dismaying.

"As black film makers, we are subject to a condition in which things get pushed out of proportion," Cosby observed.

"In the first place, this is not a black film made by blacks for black audiences. We are Americans, and we made the picture to be seen and enjoyed by Americans."

Cosby was especially piqued by criticisms that "Uptown Saturday Night" repeated the old movie stereotype of eye-bugging by black comics.

"The color of the skin of a black man," said the comedian in a pedagogical manner, "gives more prominence to the whiteness of the eyes than does the pinkish tinge of the white man's skin.

"Watch George Segal or Jack Nicholson or Walter Matthau or Jack Lemmon when they are doing comedy and you will note that their eyes do indeed bug out. It is only natural in comedy to open your eyes wider."

Most of the reviews of "Uptown Saturday Night" in New York were favorable, 11 pro, one con, three no opinion, but Cosby complained that "we as black Americans tend to be auditioning every time we make a movie.

"Nobody talks about a 'white movie.' But whenever blacks do a film, the critics ask 'Is it a black movie? Is it real?'

"Well, I'll tell you what a real black movie would be: two hours of sorrow, poor people, roaches, being called names and no place to go."

"Uptown Saturday Night" tells ably who lose their money in a night club heist and encounter adventures in trying to recover the dough.

Cosby insisted it was good entertainment, "but because we are black, we are compared to Amos 'n' Andy, or anybody who made laughs in the 1940s."

Sausalito Budget Hike Of 17½% Is Proposed By City Manager

By PAUL LIBERATORE

A preliminary budget of $2,440,934 for Sausalito, up $428,636 or 17.5 per cent over the current spending program, is being proposed by City Mgr. Thomas P. McKenzie.

Despite the increase, the fiscal plan will not require a hike in the city tax rate. In fact, it will drop 8 cents, from $1.485 to $1.405 per $100 of assessed valuation, due to a rise of 6.8 per cent in assessed valuation this year, the city manager said.

The 1974-75 budget was balanced by carrying over about $100,000 in surplus money expected at the end of the current fiscal year.

According to McKenzie, this signals trouble for 1975-76 unless new sources of revenue are found to maintain the present level of city services.

"Toward this end, we are examining all fees charged by the city to determine if they are adequate. In the coming year, we will examine closely the operations of all city departments to determine if any positions can be eliminated," McKenzie said.

All requests by department heads for additional personnel were rejected, except for a part-time assistant for finance officer George Warman Jr.

Taking large jumps are the police and fire department budgets, up a total of $231,516 over this year. The city manager attributed the increase to a new federal law hiking overtime payments for public safety workers and a $60,000 capital outlay expense for a fire pumper truck.

Also higher are expenses for public works, the city's largest department, up from $611,949 to $771,392 for 1974-75. McKenzie said this is deceiving, however, since more than $200,000 has been carried over for Bridgeway improvements.

Other capital outlays include a hot oil sprayer ($3,500), street sweeper ($21,000), vehicle hoist and mechanic's shop ($20,000) and a storm sewer system for San Carlos Avenue, Caledonia Street and Spencer Avenue ($25,000).

The budget also includes an 8.2 per cent salary increase for all city employees, raising the personnel budget about $96,500.

The spending program will require that $1,219,370 be raised by taxes. The remainder will come from licenses and permits ($18,800), fines and penalties ($177,500), revenues from money and property ($430,686), revenues from other agencies ($313,529) and charges for city services ($47,420).

Budget totals by department with this year's figures in parentheses are:

Administrative, $140,380 ($124,311); debt service, $60,370 ($61,672); finance, $130,695 ($127,546); fire, $540,000 ($401,799); library, $89,170 ($79,376); hlanning, $67,070 ($67,467); police, $631,097 ($538,176); public works, $771,392 ($611,949).

The city council has scheduled budget review sessions for 5 p.m. Monday, 7 p.m. Wednesday and 1 p.m. July 19 in council chambers.

One-Way Test Urged On Two Streets

Reed Street between Miller and Laverne avenues in Homestead Valley should be made one-way, westbound, according to representatives of the California Highway Patrol and County Department of Public Works.

Bruce Hamor of the County Public Works Department and Sgt. James Dukes of the Highway Patrol told the Homestead Valley Community Association Tuesday that they will ask county supervisors to change the street to one-way on trial.

The meeting was held to discuss traffic problems in Homestead Valley, according to Wanda Burgess of the association.

Hamor also agreed to ask for a change in stop signs at the intersections of Melrose Avenue with Laverne and Montford avenues.

Instead of having traffic on Melrose stop when it hits those two streets as it does now, signs would be set up making motorists on Laverne stop at Melrose and again at Montford.

Permit Revocation Is Appealed By Contractor

Corte Madera Planning Commission revocation of a permit for the Madera del Presidio subdivision will be appealed to the Corte Madera Town Council on Monday at 7:30 p.m. in town hall.

Cal-West Communities' permit for development of 525 units on a site south of the Koch luggage factory was first approved in January, 1972. Work was halted last year by citizens' suits and the permit was finally revoked last month pending completion of the town's general plan.

Since that time, Cal-West has unveiled scaled-down plans for just 326 units which leaves 40 of the parcel's 70 acres virtually untouched by construction.

The council will also continue public hearings on the housing element of the proposed general plan and will consider an agreement with Larkspur for temporary building inspector services while the town fills its vacant position.

Gold Counters Are Welcome

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary William Simon has offered to let several congressmen personally count the gold in Fort Knox if they don't believe there is any left.

Rep. Phillip M. Crane, R-Ill., asked Simon yesterday to allow congressmen to inspect Fort Knox to check out rumors "spreading like wildfire" in Congress that all the gold had been removed from the Kentucky fort where most of the government's gold reserves are held.

Simon told Crane during a hearing that he would be glad to have a group of congressmen inspect the gold reserves and "if they have time to count the gold themselves."

Stained Glass To Be Discussed

The use of stained glass windows in the restoration of old homes will be discussed at 8 p.m. today as Heritage Homes of Petaluma meets at the Five Corners Community Center, English Street and Western Avenue.

Chairman Dennis Pooler said the stained glass proposal will be made by the owners of Reflections, a new shop in San Rafael which specializes in the art.

The club members will also begin organizing their Sept. 15 tour of historic homes and buildings in Petaluma.

Mayor Remembered For Devoted Duty

Marin lost a devoted public servant in the unexpected death last week of Mayor Edward W. Colthurst of Corte Madera.

His many supporters remember him as a cheerful and tireless worker for the orderly growth and beautification of his community during his 15 years on the Town Council, eight of them as mayor.

His critics, particularly at the height of the bitter split over the Ernest Hahn regional shopping center and the Madera del Presidio housing issues, accused him of being overly sympathetic toward developers.

BUT WHETHER they agreed or disagreed with Mayor Colthurst's approach to growth and conservation, they cannot but acknowledge and respect the man for his devotion to duty in the face of adversity. This was never more evident than immediately after the emotion-packed recall election of Sept. 18, 1973, when Councilman Colthurst, Mayor Holmes Norville and Councilman Harold Wagstaff were voted out of office.

The three became lame duck members of the five-man council to serve until December, when a special election was to determine their successors.

DEFEATED AT the polls and stripped of effective power, the three faced the dismal prospect of further humilitation during their lame-duck term from September to December. It was not to their discredit that Councilman Wagstaff and Mayor Norville chose to resign. This set the stage for what some observers call "Ed Colthurst's finest hour."

Had Mr. Colthurst resigned along with his two colleagues, the town's activities could have been brought to a standstill for lack of a quorum on the Town Council. Ed Colthurst elected to complete his term, facing the jeers of an often hostile audience, so that the town's business could proceed uninterrupted until the December special election.

HIS OTHER accomplishments were less dramatic but just as vital. Because of his long association with business (he was an executive with Mipro Corporation in South San Francisco) and his three years as executive director of the Marin County Property Owners Association, his efforts for cultural and esthetic improvement tended to be obscured — his efforts to get the state to landscape and beautify the Corte Madera interchange or the county to build a county library in Corte Madera.

ED COLTHURST was a controversial figure, but few will question his devotion to duty and steadfastness of purpose in working for what he felt was the best interests of his community. Ed Colthurst's contributions to Corte Madera and to Marin will be long remembered.

The Ancient Rose

Roses burst upon the Marin landscape each spring in tune with their relatives, the apple and the hawthorn. Probably first cultivated in ancient Persia, the rose spread to Greece and Rome. Homer and Sappho wrote of this "Queen of Flowers centuries before Christ. To the Romans, the rose was a symbol of pleasure, the companion of wine and mirth. Today, more than 10,000 different roses are cultivated in all the temperate lands of the world.

"On the other hand, maybe it's not very heavy . . ."

Help Fight Against Impossible Taxes

I am writing this as a protest to our taxes in Marin County. Perhaps our tax collector does have to assess us so much — but do all the organizations have to raise their part of our taxes so much? For us who are on pensions who worked for 40 years in our San Rafael school system at about one-half the salary of today and who receive no social security, it almost means moving out of Marin County. This I will fight against.

Our Supervisors, our Senators etc. all see that they receive 20 per cent and over for a raise. We asked for one per cent — Did we get it? No. As our representatives in Sacramento why? That is Mr. Bagley and Mr. Behr.

Why can't taxpayers go on a strike? Everyone else does. Yet we are taxed for those commuters, schools, open space etc. Isn't there something that can be done?

My taxes are up over 25 per cent. Many others are up higher than mine. I agree with people now who say Marin County will soon be for the very rich and welfare people. No one else will be able to live here.

Our assessor keeps saying taxes are down because we have increased our assessments so much. Please let him explain who he increased and how these taxpayers are not paying more with his increased assessments. Many felt it was new factories etc. coming in here. No, it is still the home owner who pays this.

If you ask why, he says a home in your district sold for so much. Therefore your home must be increased. Was the home sold a three year old home with all new plumbing etc. against a 25 or 30 year home with more costs needed to keep it up?

I'm pleading not only for myself but all other taxpayers in Marin County.

WYLMA CUNNINGHAM
San Rafael

(The tax collector does not assess property. Assessment is the job of the county assessor, who fixes assessed valuation at 25 per cent of what he considers full market value of the property. The combined tax rates (county, city, school district, and other special districts) in the area where the property is located then determine the amount of tax to be paid. — Editor)

SACRAMENTO SCENE

University Of California Continues Secrecy Game

By EARL G. WATERS

At the same time the University of California was fighting off efforts to open Regent meetings to the public, it was also vigorously resisting legislation to require competitive bidding for construction contracts and real estate sales.

The University lays great claim to independence. It feels it is above the usual and normal controls of the State Department of Finance and other administrative agencies. And, despite the fact that its requests to the legislature for the taxpayers money is now exceeding $500 million annually, it believes these funds should be granted without interference by the lawmakers. It also holds the view that the decision meetings in the spending of its funds need not be open to the view of the public which provides them. The claim is that all this secrecy is necessary to maintain "academic freedom".

THE UNIVERSITY LIKES to cite Article IX of the California Constitution as the basis for its autonomy. But when that same Article IX was amended by a vote of the people to require all Regent meetings to be open to the public, the Regents found a loophole in the law which permitted "executive sessions" under a variety of specious reasons.

When Senator George Moscone attempted to repeal the legal escape and thus compel the Regents to abide by the Constitution, the U.C. lobbyists engaged in flag waving and other nonsense to defeat the bill.

And when Senator John Stull undertook to enforce that very Article IX which mandates the legislature to establish necessary controls to insure the security of University funds, the same dogged resistance to legislative guidance was presented.

STULL'S BILL simply sought to apply standard bidding procedures to the University's construction programs. Excepting for the University, all state and local governments are required to seek competitive bids in their construction work to assure the wisest spending of tax dollars. The Stull bill also sought to require the sale of excess University real property by the taking of competitive bids.

Lacking a law requiring this normal procedure in the handling of public funds and property, there is no surety to the public that all is above board in these dealings.

University lobbyists, in opposing the Stull bill, told the Senate Education Committee that such procedures are already a matter of policy. The obvious question is that, if that is so, why then oppose legislation spelling it out?

SOME YEARS AGO the Senate ran into the same sort of thing with the state's purchasing program. Although a policy existed for the calling of bids, no procedures for doing so had been written into the law. As a result the Senate found that the bids were not opened publicly and low bids were not honored. In fact the senators found all sorts of little games being played by the purchasing agents. In one situation, involving five major bidders, the senators found the state agents jockeying one bidder against another after the bids had been opened. What this sort of thing leads to is not hard to conjecture, and the senators promptly enacted a state purchasing act which set forth the requirement for bids and the precise procedures to be followed.

PERHAPS IT IS just as well that the Stull bill failed this time around. For Stull had neglected to include, in the bidding requirements he sought to impose upon the University, that of competitive bidding in purchasing. And, in addition to the millions the University spends in construction, it also spends millions annually in the purchase of commodities. Stull should not overlook that aspect when he makes a run with his bill next year.

CAPITOL QUIPS

By PHIL DESSAUER

There's not a document or tape recording anywhere that will prove whether Charles Colson has or has not truly reformed.

More senators and representatives than usual will leave office this year. Then they'll discover that the most important legislation in their careers dealt with congressional pensions.

Nixon and Brezhnev exchanged expensive presents at the summit. The difference between them is that not a soul in Russia is going to ask Brezhnev if he kept his gift.

Kissinger insists there was no secret dealing with the Russians. Translation: We keep our wheat, they keep theirs.

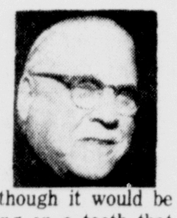
Marin Got The Business When It Got Administrator



There is a situation here in Marin. It doesn't occur at Santa Rosa nor down the Peninsula; primarily because rail differential induced industry. A large portion of our working population spends something like two hours traveling and say eight hours at business some place across one of the bridges.

They thus do not have much time to devote to local government until the shoe pinches real bad, so it seems necessary to give an unusual amount of space to background.

WHEN YOU WERE permitted to vote on the administrator office (Charter 1952) the vote was 60 per cent "No". Most have a vague knowledge of how it got as it is.

As the report (final report of 1973-74 Marin Grand Jury) is larded with thrusts to put Barrows in full charge of all departments, (which neither he nor Campanelia have the background training for) it looks like a full picture of events to date will help.

One interesting thing is that from time to time the report indicates that "professional advice" is always available. How about that?

I THINK IT was about 1956-57 that there was agitation on the board to "give" Marin County a business type of administration. Shortly afterward you got the administrator — and you got the business and how. Although it would be excruciating, like biting on a tooth that "hurts good" it might be good for the soul to add up just what the "business" has cost us. Say if we get more rain, some afternoon.

In a recent column I wrote about how they held up the selection of the first administrator while he flew in from Manila. His assistant was hired un-sight, un-seen and took his family to Europe for a trip before participating in the business. When his boss quit, I must confess that I recommended that he be advanced. I have always believed in giving the next in line a chance. Privately, it's been sack cloth and ashes for me ever since.

IN 1961 THE majority on the board of supervisors voted to abolish the office and to hire the incumbent as "Assistant to the Board." A referendum petition was circulated and enough signatures obtained to have us either re-establish the office or hold an election. We voted to hold an election concurrently with the election of June 5, 1961.

The recently elected supervisor from southern Marin was recalled. His successor blocked the election.

Until a couple of years ago when he was forced to resign, Alan Bruce just about made good his promise that he would "run this county" and manouevered things so he was taken care of financially in a big way.

THERE WERE ALWAYS enough votes on the board of supervisors to let him run things. At a testimonial dinner given by his original supporters Mike Wornum said he regretted that the resignation was requested, but that political necessity demanded it.

Although he has always denied that there is any social tie between his family and Barrows, Peter Arrigoni's actions have never supported the statement. Like the supervisor who prevented a vote being taken in 1961, Peter blocked the fine committee set up to review and recommend applicants to succeed Bruce, by pushing through Barrows' appointment without competition.

Then he and Gary Giacomini huddled with Barrows and Campanella, resulting in a 15 per cent raise for Barrows — and a nice one for Campy and a tenner for the sups, while those who really do the work a nine spot. "Oh what a beaut of a morning."

Bank Failure And Inflation Preoccupy Western Europe

BONN, WEST GERMANY — There has not been a single English-language newspaper or magazine at the newsstand of any hotel I have entered during the last week roaming about West Germany.

The desk clerk and the switchboard operator usually can speak English but seem surprised when addressed in that language. They have to reach back into the past for it. I was the only English-speaking guest at the Hotel Dreesen where I stayed in Bad Godesberg.

My plane across the Atlantic was full, but mostly with people whose accent identified a recent European background. These were not longtime Americans traveling to see the world. These were people with family and relatives to visit in the old country.

IN OTHER WORDS the American presence has diminished considerably since the days after World War II when Europe swarmed with Americans and British and the English language seemed about to take over middle Europe.

This new Europe has its own and new preoccupations, and Richard Nixon and Leonid Brezhnev are only remote figures on a far horizon talking about things which seem to have no close meaning to the lives and problems of the people of Western Europe.

Much more interesting to middle Europeans right now is the unfolding story of a bank failure and what it might mean. The Bankhaus Herstatt was, until last week, one ofthe biggest private banks in middle Europe and extremely important in the financial life of Cologne and the Rhineland. It failed. Several of its former officers are in jail. Their conduct is under government examination. Was there fraud, or only folly?

THE IMMEDIATE cause of failure was a bad guess about the dollar on the money exchanges. They bought dollars short expecting the dollar to go on down because of the Arab oil embargo. The dollar went up. They were caught out and had to be closed.

This is not the only bank to fail in the season. It is the first one closed because it guessed wrong on the foreign exchange markets. Its failure certainly does not prove that the financial situation in West Europe is in serious trouble. Yet it stirs uncomfortable memories.

EVERYONE WHO keeps up with banking matters seems to remember something most ordinary people have long forgotten. Once there was a bank named the Kreditanstalt. It was a very big bank for its times, in Vienna.It failed. And somehow its failure acted like a spark to a fuse.

Actually there were two Kreditanstalts, closely related. The first, which dealt mostly in properties, failed in mid-1929 just before the bottom dropped out of the New York stock market. The second, which dealt with business and trade, tried to bail out the first, and itself collapsed in 1931.

WHAT WENT WRONG in 1929 and 1931, and is there any parallel today?

The statesmen of Western Europe have their best economists working on that problem right now. In 1929 there was a severe shortage of spending money in the hands of people. Technology had greatly increased production but displaced many workers. Men out of work had no buying power. The ability of people to buy went down as factory production went up. The great depression came.

THE ECONOMISTS are not agreed about parallels or remedies. Some want pump-priming right now. Others feel the inflation must first be broken. Germany is putting its emphasis on antiinflation. Britain, France, and Italy are still trying to maintain full employment regardless of inflation.

At such a time Mr. Nixon's visit to Yalta did make most front pages last week below the fold. It seemed less important here than it probably did in Washington.

Nothing Yet In Sight To Halt Nuclear Arms Race

By HELEN THOMAS
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's summit talks with Soviet leaders in Moscow concluded with one clear message: The nuclear arms race will go forward and neither side has the inclination — or courage — to stop it.

President Nixon did not have the power to buck the forces in the United States who are convinced that the new arsenal on the drawing boards must become reality before consideration of a permanent disarmament agreement.

Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev also was prepared to make concessions that would have accepted a status quo on the advanced multiple nuclear warheads, and therefore an inferior position. The United States already has its MIRV missiles in place while Russia expects to deploy its own within 6 months, according to Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

IN A RARE show of frankness, Kissinger admitted that in the "formalistic" way the summit negotiations on strategic arms limitations could be construed as a setback. He also blamed the military on both sides for blocking a permanent agreement at this time.

"Both sides have to convince their military establishments of the benefit of restraint and that is not a thought that comes naturally to military people of either side," he said.

AT ANOTHER POINT in a news conference following issuance of the final summit communique, Kissinger said: "And one of the questions which we have to ask ourselves as a country is what in the name of God is strategic superiority. What is the significance of it, politically, militarily, operationally...What do you do with it."

Nixon and Brezhnev did agree to limit underground testing to 150 kilotons, eight times the size of the Hiroshima bomb, by March 31, 1976. They also agreed to limit each country to one anti-ballistic missile site in progress before they met.

IN A FOLLOW UP, Defense Secretary James Schlesinger, who has become a feared man in Soviet official circles, said he expected the testing to continue on both sides right up to the deadline.

If anything, the summit dramatized the differences and projected a time limit in which the United States and the Soviet Union can seek an agreement before the technological explosion gets out of hand with nothing to stabilize the arms race, according to Kissinger.

NIXON AND Brezhnev hope to instruct their Geneva disarmament negotiators to try to negotiate an agreement with a 1985 expiration date, one that will go into effect when the current interim offensive arms pact ends in 1977.

If detente means that Nixon and Brezhnev are striving for an accommodation and have reached it on many economic and cultural levels, then it exists. But the central question is the curbing of holocaust weapons, and the outlook is currently bleak for that.

Rates For Electricity Should Be Kept Current

(Reprinted from The Wall Street Journal)

Governors, state legislatures and state public utility boards would do well to heed the request of energy chief John Sawhill that states move faster in letting electric utilities pass along higher costs to their customers.

Higher fuel costs can be passed through automatically in 31 states. Mr. Sawhill wants that rule applied nationwide plus an automatic passthrough of operating costs as well.

Electricity customers, some of whom already have swallowed big increases, aren't likely to welcome automatic passthroughs with enthusiasm. But whatever the short-run pain, such rules are in their long-range interest.

It takes a lot of money and time to install generating plants and power lines and utilities meet needs best when their long-range plans aren't upset by short-term aberrations of the type that can be caused when fuel costs rise suddenly and rates do not. Unexpected losses or cuts in earnings below projected levels disturb their ability to raise the huge amounts of capital they need.

In addition, delays in recovering electricity costs while other energy costs are rising can distort the market by giving consumers the idea that electricity is relatively cheap. A rational fuel policy demands that the prices of all forms of energy reflect real costs.

We doubt that passthroughs will yield anyone "windfall profits," whatever that means. Even so, it is better to have healthy utilities than sick ones. The way to keep them healthy is to see that rates for electric current are themselves current.

"It looks like after a person's guilt in this country is established, why then the battle is to whether he should be punished is the real test of the court.

"It seems if he is lucky enough to get convicted, or confesses, why, he has a great chance of coming clear."

Judge's Strong Admonition Against Booze And Driving

It was a little like being back in high school again.

The 50 or so drivers had come to traffic court at the Marin Hall of Justice expecting to take care of those nagging tickets that needed to be cleared up.

But they hadn't expected a lecture by Municipal Court Judge Robert A. Smallman on alcohol and driving.

For 15 minutes, as Smallman talked about a subject of which he obviously has strong feelings, they listened attentively.

"This country has two problems more important than any others, even more important that Watergate and Vietnam," Smallman said.

"THEY ARE booze and driving.

This country is paying well over $50 billion a year because of alcohol. Fifty per cent of those on welfare are there because of alcohol.

"But there are no signs on the bottles saying it's dangerous to your health. Why? Because cities and counties and states are reaping $16 billion a year on alcohol and they're not about to kill the goose that lays the golden egg."

TURNING TO cars, Smallman continued: "The most dangerous thing you ever did was get into your car and drive down to the grocery store.

"When we get two tons of Detroit metal around us, we become different persons. And we kill 55,000 people on our highways each year, injure 3 million and permanently disable half a million."

If Marin's population were to stay constant and everybody lived to be 65, he told the traffic offenders, "chances are one in seven you'll be permanently disabled here in Marin in your lifetime."

He went on to stress the importance of paying complete attention to the road every minute a driver is in his car.

"IF YOUR'RE REALLY paying attention, and a car comes along at 70 miles an hour on the wrong side of the road, you can save your life. But if you're thinking about what you want to buy at the grocery store, you can't."

How many in the courtroom, he asked, drove to the Civic Center that rainy morning without their headlights being on? A few raised their hands.

"You're a fool if you did," he said.

AND THE MOST foolish driver is the one who thinks it can't happen to him, Smallman said.

"Don't you ever think you're so good a driver it won't happen to you, because that's exactly the time it will.

"If I can convince you that the two tons of Detroit metal sitting in your driveway is the most dangerous thing you ever owned, then I may have saved someone's life."

Brezhnev Gives Easy Lesson On How To Manipulate TV

WASHINGTON — If nothing else, President Nixon's trip to the Soviet Union showed the United States how the Russians could pull the plug on the American TV networks. Several nights ago, while the American TV correspondents were trying to report on dissidents in the Soviet Union, Russian technicians pulled the plug out on them and they were unable to transmit their reports.

When President Nixon heard about it he immediately contacted Soviet party leader Leonid Brezhnev and said "How did you do it?"

"Is accident," Brezhnev retorted.

"AW C'MON, Mr. Secretary," Mr. Nixon said. "I know it wasn't an accident, and I'm not criticizing you. I'm really interested in knowing for my own benefit."

"You're not angry?"

"How could I be angry?" Mr. Nixon said. "I've been trying to shut off the American TV correspondents for years. I just never knew how to do it."

"Is simple," Brezhnev said. "Come over to the Kremlin and I'll show you."

"Can I bring my scientific technical adviser, Ron Ziegler, along with me?"

"Of course. What is detente for if we can't help each other pull plug out on the press?"

THE NEXT MORNING President Nixon and Ron Ziegler were driven over to the Kremlin where Brezhnev and several of his technicians were waiting for them.

"I'm sorry I can't give you MIRV treaty," Brezhnev said.

"Forget about the MIRVs," Mr. Nixon replied. "This is more important."

Brezhnev took the two men into a room marked in Russian: "Top Secret."

There was a large switchboard manned by a Soviet general. Overhead were five or six TV monitors.

"NOW LISTEN closely, Ron," the President warned. "They may never let us see this again."

"Up on screen," Brezhnev said, "is Soviet commentator. He is going to give the news."

"Good evening."

The Soviet general immediately pulled the plug. The screen went dark.

"Why did you pull the plug?" Mr. Nixon wanted to know.

"Is not for him to say what kind of evening it is. Some Soviet citizens may ask why is it a good evening. We don't let our people know if evening is good or bad. It makes them nervous."

"You taking all this down, Ron?" the President whispered.

"Watch Channel Two," Brezhnev said.

"COMRADES," the commentator began, "the glorious leader of the Soviet Union, Leonid Brezhnev, reported today that a new milestone had been reached in the Soviet-American detente. The agreement, which will be signed tomorrow by leaders of both countries, specifies that . . ."

The general pulled the plug.

Mr. Nixon looked at Brezhnev.

The Soviet leader smiled, "Is better they don't know what we agreed on. Next they'll want to know what we didn't agree on."

"That's fantastic. What is that red button over there on the switchboard?" Mr. Nixon asked.

"THAT IS OUR Multiple Television Cutoff Switch. We can cut off all channels at same time."

"What a breakthrough!" Nixon gasped.

"You want one?" Brezhnev asked.

"Do I ever!" Nixon said. "What do we have to give you in exchange?"

Brezhnev thought a moment and then said, "I'll take another Cadillac."

He Has Last Word In House

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — Nebraska Lt. Gov. Frank Marsh is the only delegate to the national lieutenant governors' conference with constitutional power over his wife. At least that's the way he sees it.

"I'm the only man in the United States who has the constitutional power to have the last word over my wife," said Marsh.

Warning Out On Feeding Of Raccoons

Marin County health officials yesterday cautioned residents against feeding raccoons because of the possibility of rabies.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, public health officer, said each year several Marin residents "have to go through the agonizing experience" of deciding whether to have antirabies shots because of raccoon bites.

"If you simply have to feed raccoons, throw the food to them but don't hand it," she warned, adding it is best to stay clear of all wild animals.

Last year, 43 rabid animals were reported in Marin. Most were skunks.

Currently, the county and the Marin Veterinary Medical Assoc. are sponsoring rabies vaccination clinics for dogs.

The schedule is as follows with all clinics from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. except the July 27 clinic in San Rafael, which will be held from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

SAN RAFAEL — July 27 and Aug. 8 at the city schools administration building, Third and E Streets.

MILL VALLEY — July 16 and Aug. 6 at the city corporation yard, Sycamore Avenue and Camino Alto.

WOODACRE — July 18 at the county fire station on Railroad Avenue.

CORTE MADERA — July 23 at the public safety building at Tamalpais Drive and Pixley Avenue.

SAN ANSELMO — July 25 at the Wade Thomas School, 115 Kensington Road.

POINT REYES STATION — July 30 at the county fire station, Second and A streets.

ROSS — Aug. 1 at the Ross School, Lgunitas Road.

NOVATO — Aug. 13 at Marion School, 1705 Marion Avenue.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon departed on a 16-day trip to the Middle East and Europe today for discussions on world finance, economics and trade.

Gymnasium Contract Awarded By Trustees

A contract to construct a gymnasium at Hill Junior High School in Novato has been awarded to Joseph Di Giorgio and Sons of San Rafael, who submitted a low bid of $216,270.

Novato Unified School District trustees Tuesday night awarded the contract for the gymnasium south of the existing school building and estimated the total cost, including architect's and other fees, at $260,255.

A group of more than 50 persons was disappointed when the board tabled discussion of a proposal by trustee James Casassa to limit enrollment at each school to not more than one per cent beyond its capacity.

The shifting of some students from the Sinaloa Junior High School attendance area to Hill Junior High School because of overcrowding at Sinaloa has resulted in protests from parents in the Sinaloa area.

Casassa's proposal was tabled after a discussion on procedure according to Annette Conklin, publications director.

Usually an item is first placed on the agenda for discussion at a future meeting, but in this case this step was omitted and the procedure was challenged by trustee Betty Machado.

Members of the audience told earlier in the meeting to withhold comment until the item came up on the agenda, were agenda, were angry when it was tabled and they didn't get a chance to speak, Miss Conklin reported.

Novato Unified School District Board Also:

ORGANIZATION — Elected Jan Murray president, succeeding William T. Eckhoff, Elizabeth Mertel, vice president; Dr. John Kassenbrock, clerk, and Ronald D. Schenck, trustee association representative, and set meetings at 8 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesdays at 8 p.m. at Novato High School lecture hall.

MANAGEMENT — Received a request from management employees, mainly school principals, for an 8 per cent salary increase, which would affect 31 employees at an estimated cost of $51,216.

SUMMER SCHOOL — Received a report that summer school enrollment is at 2,990 students.

INJURY CLAIM — Denied a $10,000 claim for an injury reportedly suffered by Wendy Axelrod, daughter of Melvin Axelrod, at San Ramon School.

COUNSELOR — Received a report that Beverly Mooney, counselor at San Marin High School, has been named to a statewide committee to study the role of high school counselors.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Tuesday at Novato High School lecture hall and set a public hearing on the proposed 1974-75 budget for Aug. 6.

Trustee Elizabeth Mertel was absent.

Crab Fishing Bill Becomes Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — In hopes of halting the decline of California's once-thriving crab fishery, Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday signed into law legislation providing new research money from crab processors.

The bill (SB1606) by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, calls for packagers and processors to pay an additional tax of $.0185 for each pound of crab.

The revenues will be collected starting Jan. 1 and be used for research and management studies into the decline of California's offshore crab population.

It also appropriates $60,000 from the state treasury to help the study.

FEW STUDENTS FIND WORK

Summer Jobs In Short Supply

By FRANK FARRARA

If the unemployment rate for adults ever reached the summer rate for minors, it would be labeled an economic crisis.

The state Employment Development Department office in San Rafael has 1,500 students registered for summer jobs and 464 have been placed.

A youth employment service serving Cotati and Rohnert Park has 120 applicants and 36 have gotten jobs thus far.

The state Employment Development Department office in Petaluma has 125 applicants and a spokesman estimated the agency has found jobs for 5 per cent of them.

Students from 14 to 22 years of age are working in offices and stores, landscaping and babysitting, tutoring and cleaning houses and many are working for governmental agencies.

The problem is finding jobs in private business, according to Alma White of the San Rafael office.

The new minimum wage law of $2 an hour might be making "professional employers a little hesitant," according to John L. Wash, director of Youth Employment Service, Young Men's Christian Association, Santa Venetia.

Generally, college students are working to help pay their way through school, high school students for school expenses and spending money and others for the work experience.

"Work in itself is an education," Mrs. White said.

Applicants prefer jobs that have lasting benefits, such as office work for a potential secretary, but most summer jobs fall into the casual labor category.

"Youngsters seem to be getting a little more choosy," Wash said. "We have a surplus of child care and yard care jobs."

"We get a lot of baby sitting and yard work, but we're also getting clerical, some sales, a little factory work and quite a bit of restaurant work," said Sue Missimer, youth program coordinator at the office in San Rafael.

Some youths make the rounds of employers and some apply at private employment agencies.

Lee Sarter, operator of a private employment agency in Novato that specializes in temporary jobs, said he places as many youths as he can but has "30 or 40 on file" awaiting jobs.

"I think a lot are getting jobs on their own," Sarter said. "A lot of places say they have had students in" looking for jobs.

For youths, 11 to 14, an age group not served by other agencies, the Novato Human Needs Center recently established a "Mighty Mite" summer job program.

So far, the program has resulted in 24 jobs, according to Jan Georgeson, coordinator. The mainstay is baby sitting, but "three girls have jobs at a kennel," she said.

Agencies where youth may apply for summer jobs are:

State Employment Development Department, 757 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, serves youths to age 22.

State Employment Development Department, 714 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma.

Young Men's Christian Association, Youth Employment Service, 241 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, serves ninth through 12th graders.

College of Marin, Student Services Building, College Avenue, Kentfield.

Youth Employment Service, Rohnert Park City Hall, 6750 Commerce Boulevard, Rohnert Park, for persons 14 to 24 years of age from Rohnert Park and Cotati.

Novato Human Needs Center, 1523 South Novato Boulevard, Novato, for youths 11 to 14 years of age.

Neighborhood Youth Corps, Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, for youths 15 through 21 years of age.

OFFICE JOB — Cynthia Crabtree, 18, of Novato, found her summer job in a San Rafael mortgage firm's office through a private employment agency. She is a student at Sacramento State University.

CADETS — Chris Moats (left) and Brian Duncan (right), both 16-year-old cadets in a new program set up by the Novato Fire District, neatly pack 1.5-inch hose under the direction of Capt. Thomas Tomassini. The department recruited its cadets through the schools. Career oriented jobs like these are most desired but least available.

Budget For Fairfax Is Cut Again

The Fairfax Town Council, meeting for the fourth time to review a proposed budget for 1974-75, last night sliced $7,110 from the spending program.

The budget, a compilation ot departmental requests which originally totalled $931,506, now stands at $838,676. The budget is up from this year's $719,774 operating program.

(The budget makes no provision for a capital improvement plan, which this year totalled $91,650, and there is no estimate of how the spending program will affect this year's tax rate of $1.80 per $100 of assessed valuation.)

City Treasurer Pamela Schotte said the council cut $9,960 from street department after deciding to patch Bolinas Road rather than overlay it with asphalt. The council also cut $150 from the city administrator account.

Additions made last night were $250 to the council's $1,000 travel and meetings account, and $2,750 to the planning account for mapping work.

The council next meets at 7 p.m. Friday in the Fairfax Women's Club for a closed session on employee salaries.

Petaluma Park Bond Is Sought

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission decided last night to seek city council approval for another parks improvement bond election Nov. 5.

In the March 5 election, a $1.9 million bond issue failed when 65.4 per cent of the city's voters cast affirmative ballots. A two-thirds majority (66.66 per cent) was required.

Recreation director James R. Raymond said the commission has not set the amount of the bonds, but intends to ask for enough money to do all the projects included in the earlier unsuccessful measure.

He said he expects the dollar figure will be more than the previous one because of inflation.

The bond issue is to add 48 acres of developed parklands to the city's parks system.

Construction of a community center, tennis, handball, badminton and volleyball courts, a lagoon, athletic fields and picnic areas is planned for Luchesi Park. Softball, baseball and soccer fields are planned for Shollenberger River Park and the city's sole existing tennis court at McNear Park is to be rebuilt and supplemented by a second court if the bond measure passes.

The recreation commission pledged a second try after the first bond measure was narrowly defeated.

Chief reason for the push toward more parks is Petaluma's population increase of about 150 per cent during the last 12 years. During this period, no new park has been built and existing ones have been deemed inadequate.

Raymond said the bond election proposal will be placed before the council at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Monday in city hall.

Another Round Tuesday In Administrator Search

The Fairfax Town Council last night said it will meet in closed session Tuesday to continue the job of sifting through applications for the post of city administrator.

The council has already cut a list of 112 applications for the job to about 40 contenders. Ten applicants have been told they will be interviewed.

The council last night declined to make public the identities of top contenders for the post, calling such action premature.

Councilmen Randall L. Garrison and Priscilla Gray were absent.

Winning Violinist Plays For Crowd

NEW YORK (UPI) — Eugene Fodor, the first American violinist to win an award in the Tchaikovsky Violin Competition in Moscow, arrived at Kennedy Airport last night and played a few numbers for the crowd.

"I was so happy not only to receive the coveted Tchaikovsky silver medal but also that it was presented to an American," said Fodor, 24, of Denver, Colo.

Vandal Problem

The Bel Marin Keys Community Services District board will have a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at the Bel Marin Keys Community Center to strengthen the district's ordinances to protect against vandalism at the new tidal lock and at district parks.

Budget To Be Topic

The Belvedere City Council will discuss its proposed 1974-75 budget of $587,458 today at 8 p.m. at city hall, according to City Clerk Molly M. Holsinger.

Broad Limits Set For New Health Head

Recruitment of a successor to Betty L. Presley as head of the Marin County Health and Human Services Department should not be limited to people who have administered $10 million annual budgets.

This was the view expressed yesterday by members of the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Marin County, according to Joan M. Ripple, executive director.

The council also agreed that persons who have had administrative experience in private business or agencies should be considered for the post, she said.

The county personnel office has published a brochure advertising the vacancy in the directorship of the county's largest department.

It says that applicants for the $2,800-to-$3,080 a month job should have had experience in administering agencies or departments with at least 200 employees and $10 million annual budgets.

It also suggests that applicants should have had governmental experience.

"We felt that many persons from nongovernmental fields might have the experience necessary for the job," Mrs. Ripple said. She also pointed out that Marin General Hospital, for example, has an annual budget of only $8 million.

Miss Presley resigned last month as director of the year-old county umbrella agency, which administers health, mental health and welfare services in the county.

The department has 450 employees and an annual budget in excess of $18 million.

Dixie Parents Think Academics Should Be First In Education

Parents in the Dixie School District believe that schools should concentrate on academic subjects and forget about trying to teach youngsters how to live in the world.

This is what district trustees learned last night from the results of a survey of the more than 2,000 families who have children in district schools.

Supt. Clifford W. Campbell said parents assigned priorities to 44 subjects and educational goals, ranking them from first to 44th in order of importance. A total of 1,699 families returned the questionnaires.

The 10 subjects which parents most wanted their children to master, in order, were: 1. math; 2. reading; 3. foreign language; 4. logical reasoning and critical thinking; 5. science; 6. geography; 7. written and verbal communication; 8. history; 9. electives for a variety of educational experiences, and 10. government.

The parents thought the least important subjects and goals were: accident and drug abuse prevention, how to function in the world of work, social problems, human behavior, consumer education, nutrition, sex education, and the ability to get along with peers and family.

"It's obvious that the 3-R-type subjects are held in the highest esteem," Campbell said. "I'm not at all surprised by the results."

The Dixie School District board also:

ORGANIZATION — Elected Ruth Rosen as board president, Donal McEnhill as vice president and Campbell as board secretary.

REPRESENTATIVE — Appointed Trustee Coral Kay Beckmann as the district's representative to the Marin County School Boards Association.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired these persons: Antonio Rodriguez as a mechanic at $844 a month; Carol Newman as a summer school aide at $182 for the session; Trevor Ashworth as an aide at $200 for the session and Warford Reaney as a summer school teacher aide and counselor, $245.

TESTING — Learned that in recent state standardized tests Dixie students scored among the highest in the state. Grades 1 through 8, except grade five, were tested on a variety of subjects, including math and reading.

BUDGET — Adopted a final budget of $5,699,000 for 1974-75, unchanged from the preliminary spending plan approved last month. The district's tax rate will be $3.65 per $100 assessed valuation, down 20 cents from this year's $3.85 rate.

More Workers Strike For Pay

PACIFICA (UPI) — Nearly half of this San Francisco suburb's municipal employees struck yesterday in a pay dispute.

Mayor Aubrey Lumley said 77 of the Pacifica's 160 employes were represented by the Teamsters Union which called the walkout after rejecting an offer of an 8 ½ per cent increase.

Those striking include gardeners, maintenance men, draftsmen, secretaries and sewer treatment plant operators.

Child Molesting Charge Planned

Novato resident Homer Warder Byard Sr., 59, will face a felony child molesting charge when he is arraigned Tuesday in Marin Superior Court.

He was bound over following a preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Robert A. Smallman.

Novato police said he molested an 8-year-old girl in a creek area near the retirement home where he lived.

Drop-In Center Opens Tuesdays

A drop-in center will be available for Petaluma teen-agers from 7:30 to 10 p.m. each Tuesday for the remainder of the summer.

Sponsored by the city recreation department and held at the Petaluma Boys Club, the center provides pool tables, table tennis, basketball and volleyball games.

The center is open to all junior and senior high students, a spokesman said.

The boys club building is at Eighth and G streets.

Three Marinites At Music Camp

Three Marin County residents are among the 650 high school students from throughout the nation attending the Pacific Music Camp at the University of the Pacific in Stockton.

The three youths are Johnathan Baumgarten of Mill Valley, Tamalpais High School; Deborah Kranz of Novato, San Marin High School, and Hugh O'Donnell of San Rafael, Terra Linda High School.

Golfing For Kids At San Geronimo

CATCHING UP with the Notebag:

Boys and girls 17 and under get a chance to learn the game of golf free next week at San Geronimo National Golf course.

Wayne Wallick, head professional at San Geronimo, and assistant pro Mike Wesley will be doing the teaching in the week-long sessions that will teach fundamentals, rules and etiquette of golf to youngsters. In his first such clinic last year, Wallick drew more than 60 kids and he wants to pass that figure this time. Registration Monday will be at 9 a.m.

VERONICA VENEZIA, 15-year-old Terra Linda High School sophomore who won the girls 440-yard run at the California state meet last month in Bakersfield, doesn't hold the girls national scholastic record as was hoped. Her time of 56.4 was surpassed by Sheila Ingram, 17, of Washington D.C. who set the mark of 55.8. Since Sheila has been running for four years, maybe Veronica can surpass that record next season when she's a junior.

I-J REPORTER Bill Roberts, a true and blue Dodgers fan, figures out that if his team continues at its present pace of .682 ball it will finish the 162-game schedule with 110 wins and 52 losses. And, says Bill, if the Cincinnati Reds continue playing .565 percentage they would have 92 wins and 70 losses. At that rate, the Dodgers would win the National League West by a whopping 18 games over the Reds. The Giants? At their pace they would end up with a 72-90 record, 38 games behind the Dodgers. Ow!

DON SWARTZ, Marin Aquatic Club coach, usually has a good "Thought for the Month" to include in his club's monthly newsletter. He started his latest one by quoting Dr. Thomas Tutko of San Jose State, speaker at a Western States Coaches Clinic in Los Angeles. In speaking on the values placed upon winning, especially among those in the 8-14 age bracket, Tutko said, "The current trend in athletics today seems to be in the direction that winning is everything," but, Tutko pointed out, "this statement was made by a winner, not by someone on the Houston Oilers or the San Diego Padres."

Writes Swartz: "What about all of us involved who will never win, or at best will do so rarely? Perhaps some of the other values in sports ought to be emphasized more, especially with respect to the above mentioned age group. These values might include companionship, self discipline, coming to terms with your own abilities and working toward group cooperation. As swimmers, parents and coaches who devote much time and energy to our sport, I think we would do well to consider his ideas."

THREE TWO-MAN teams from Marin and southern Sonoma will be competing in Division A of the Northern California Golf Association Two-Man Team Tournament today and tomorrow at Spyglass Hill Golf Course in Pebble Beach. There are 72 teams from throughout Northern California which survived the cut from 251 teams in qualifying play last month. Jim Wieder and Jerry Boitano of Marin Country Club, Guy Robinson and H. J. Haralson of Indian Valley Golf Club and John Lewis and Karl Butler of Rohnert Park Golf Club will be in the field.

TELEVISION TEST TONIGHT

World Football — A Box Office Hit

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The World Football League was a box office success in its debut Wednesday night, with over 200,000 fans announced in attendance in five cities, but the crucial test for the new summer fare will be tonight when it makes its first appearance on national television.

Philadelphia announced 55,534 fans paid their way into John F. Kennedy Stadium, tops in the league Wednesday, and only the Florida Blazers played before an announced crowd of fewer than 30,000.

The Birmingham Americans announced 53,231 fans, the Chicago Fire estimated their attendance at 42,000, the Memphis Southmen announced 30,122 and the Florida Blazers announced 18,625 in Orlando.

In essence, the upstart league served notice on the National Football League that it is for real, and perhaps added another warning to the NFL owners to settle the 11-day-old players strike.

When the New York Stars take on the Jacksonville Sharks in Florida tonight, the WFL will test its appeal to its most important market—the national television audience. Television made the American Football League a decade ago, the WFL owners are hoping for same will happen to them.

"It looks like professional football," Memphis owner John Bassett declared. "The crowd has responded tremendously."

A mixed group of players from the NFL, Canadian Football League, minor leagues, rookies and free agents were the heroes of the WFL's opening card.

The first night scores in the WFL, which awards seven points for a touchdown and one point for a mandatory pass or run conversion (there are no point-after kicks), were: Philadelphia over Portland 33-8, Birmingham over Southern California 11-7, Memphis over Detroit 34-15, Chicago over Houston 17-0 and Florida over Hawaii 8-7.

Bell 33, Storm 8

In Philadelphia, King Corcoran threw two touchdown passes and running back John Land rushed for two tallies to spark the Philadelphia Bell to their victory over the Portland Storm.

Corcoran, a former Atlantic Coast League star, completed 21 of 38 passes for 227 yards. He hit Alan Thompson on a 14-yard scoring aerial early in the second quarter, and a few minutes later he hit Cecil Bowens with a 25-yard touchdown toss, giving the Bell a 25-0 halftime lead.

Americans 11, Sun 7

Hometown rookie Steve Williams ran back a pass interception 50 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter to spark the Birmingham Americans to their triumph over the Southern California Sun.

The pass interception by Williams, a 173-pound rookie cornerback from the University of Alabama, came with 14:10 to play and evened the score at 7-7. The Americans went ahead 8-7 when ex-NFL quarterback George Mira passed to former NFL running back Paul Robinson for the "action point." Earl Sark kicked a 26-yard field goal with 1:55 remaining after Southern California failed on a fourth-and-one gamble at its 14-yard line.

Southmen 34, Wheels 15

Former Notre Dame quarterback John Huarte threw a 40-yard scoring pass to tight end Gary Shirk and rookie halfback Paul Miles ran for two touchdowns to boost Memphis to its win against Detroit.

Miles, of Bowling Green, scored touchdowns on runs of eight and five yards in the final quarter. Memphis fullback J.J. Jennings, who led the nation in scoring at Rutgers last year, ran five yards for a firstquarter touchdown.

Fire 17, Texans 0

NFL castoff Virgil Carter completed two touchdown passes and passed for 184 yards to lead Chicago past Houston. Carter sparked the Fire to a 60-yard march for a touchdown after the opening kickoff, passing for five yards to Cyril Pinder for the score. In the third period he directed the Fire 55 yards in 13 plays, passing for five yards to Jim Scott for the touchdown.

Carter completed 21 of 34 pass attempts and was tackled only once while the Fire defense got to Texan quarterback Don Trull three times.

Blazers 8, Hawaiians 7

Jim Strong ran for a touchdown and grabbed an "action play" pass to give Florida its squeaker over Honolulu. It took Strong, a 27- year-old former San Francisco 49er and New Orleans Saint, two sweeps around left end for Florida's only touchdown late in the third period. He then hauled in quarterback Bill Davis' pass for what proved to be the winning point.

Hawaii quarterback Norris Weese put together a 79-yard fourth period drive on the next series of downs, ending it with a six-yard touchdown pass to tight end John Kelsey.

Babe Ruth Tourney Underway

SANTA ROSA — Southern Marin American's team in the Babe Ruth League District 9 Tournament won the game but lost a catcher yesterday.

Southern Marin's team in the all-star tournament defeated Redwood Empire of Santa Rosa, 4-2, but catcher Doug Freidheim had to be taken to a hospital after suffering injuries in a third base collision.

Freidheim suffered two cracked ribs and a punctured lung and had to be taken to Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital by ambulance. He was expected to be transferred to Children's Hospital in San Francisco.

Frank Ferroni was the winning pitcher for Southern Marin and Gino Chase had a two-run double to help the cause.

In other opening night games, Novato American's Bill Parementer struck out 13 batters in a 6-0 win over Sonoma, West Side of Santa Rosa downed Southern Marin National, 7-3, and Novato National whipped San Rafael, 8-4.

Parementer had a one-hitter until the last inning against Sonoma when he gave up his second single.

The double elimination tourney continues today with four games. The schedule:

5:30 p.m. — Central Marin vs. Novato National, Arnold Field, Sonoma; San Anselmo vs. Southern Marin American, Santa Rosa J.C.; Rohnert Park vs. Novato American, Doyle Field.

CHAMP IN THE SAND — Defending champion Tom Weiskopf blasted out of a bunker by the fourth green during yesterday's opening round of the British Open Golf Tournament. Gary Player led at day's end. (UPI Telephoto)

Player Below Par Again; All Alone In Open Lead

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (UPI) — Gary Player shot his second sub-par round—a 68—Thursday, while all around his rivals made mistakes in the wind to give the little South African the early lead at the half-way mark of the British Open Golf championship.

Player's three-under-par 68, to go with his opening round 69, left him five under for 36 holes on 137.

With two-thirds of the field in the clubhouse, Player's nearest challengers were countryman Bobby Cole, 72, and Britain's Peter Oosterhuis, 71, who were level par on 142.

Defending champion Tom Weiskopf, one over at the start of his round, finished with another 72 to drop a further stroke to the demanding 6,822-yard, par 71, course, while Jack Nicklaus, the pre-tournament favorite, made little real impression, finishing with a 72 for 146—four over.

The wind again upset the field of 154 and Player was critical of his fellow pros. "It took me a long time to pass my examination in Britain. As I've won twice, I guess I have, but I believe 80 per cent of those here have yet to get the pass.

"The wind is what the British Open is all about. I enjoy it." Player first contested the championship in 1955 and has not missed one since.

Player, with halves of 33-35, made birdies at Nos. 1, 5, 6, 13 and 18 and dropped strokes at 3 and 14.

British club pro John Morgan, who shared the first round lead with Player, picked up a stroke on the front nine but then lost five strokes coming home for a 75 which left him two over at 144.

"For the last two days I've played as well as I possibly can. I'm hitting the ball good and putting good," said Player, the reigning U.S. Masters champion.

Player put his six-iron to good use and dropped putts ranging from seven to 25-feet on his birdie holes. He three putted the 458-yard third, while he found a bunker at the 14th and failed to get down in one to save his par.

Weiskopf appeared to be getting it together after making bogey at the fourth when he needed two putts from 25-feet after playing a loose chip. He ran off three straight birdies from the fifth, hitting a six-iron to within 1-½ feet, chipping to within 3-feet and dropping a 12-footer, but on the back nine the course hit back.

The champion three-putted the 14th from 60-feet after leaving his bunker recovery short, and at the 15th he pitched his third to within 10-feet and two-putted.

Nicklaus turned level exchanging a fourth hole bogey for a birdie at the seventh. He bogeyed the 10th, got it back with a birdie at the 14th, then bogeyed the 15th — a hole he has had trouble with in three opens at Royal Lytham.

Nicklaus, who dropped putts of 15 and 20 feet for his birdies, said "It's hard to play well, shoot a 72 and know you're nine strokes back. I played a good round of golf. I'm getting better. It all depends on Gary. If he slips a bit. . ."

Strike Kills All-Star Game

CHICAGO (UPI) — For the first time since its inception in 1934, the annual midsummer clash between the College All-Stars and the National Football League champions, the traditional kickoff of the football season, will not be played.

The scheduled July 26 contest was canceled yesterday, becoming the first casualty of the National Football League Players Association strike.

The NFLPA pledged to donate half of what the game between the All-Stars and the champion Miami Dolphins would have raised, about $100,000, to Chicago Tribune Charities Inc., sponsor of the annual charity game.

A spokesman for NFL owners promptly lashed out at the union, accusing striking players of an "irresponsible attack on the traditions of football."

Cancellation of the game was announced by Cooper Rollow, Tribune sports editor and president of Tribune Charities.

"Tribune Charities, which already has incurred considerable expense preparing for the game, cannot continue plans when the status of the game remains uncertain," Rollow told a news conference.

A dejected band of All-Stars began breaking training camp Wednesday without so much as a single scrimmage. Half of the team had left town by last night and the rest were expected to leave today.

"I don't think anybody's responsible," All-Star Coach John McKay of Southern California said. "Certainly the players aren't to blame.

"It's just one of those things that happen — and maybe should have happened," he said.

Miami Coach Don Shula said he "hated to see a fine traditional game called off."

The NFLPA expressed regret that the game had to be cancelled.

"We don't consider this a victory. Rather, we regret it," said NFLPA President Bill Curry.

Curry said the NFLPA had made an unconditional pledge to donate half of what the game raised last year, noting that "half the responsibility" for the game's cancellation rests with striking players.

"We know where the money is coming from. We will raise

Expos' Errors Lead To Win For Giants

MONTREAL (UPI) — San Francisco pitcher Jim Barr gave up 10 hits but still managed to come away with a win when errors by Steve Renko and Barry Foote enabled the Giants to score four runs and defeat Montreal Expos, 4-2, last night.

The Giants scored three runs in the third inning with the aid of a wild throw by Renko and they added their final run in the sixth when Foote dropped a throw to the plate, enabling Gary Matthews to score.

Barr opened the third inning by drawing a walk and moved the second when Mike Phillips singled. Chris Speier then hit a ball back to Renko, who threw a wild pitch to third and allowed Barr to score.

"My curve was working well tonight and mixed with my fast ball and slider, was able to do the job. Although I gave up 10 hits, I managed to pitch my way out of trouble when necessary," said Barr, who is now 5-5.

"I have been pitching well and with a little more luck my record could be better."

Marin A.C. Ends Season In Style

Four members of the Marin Aquatic Club, winner of Division 1 of the Redwood Empire Swim League, ended the season in national record style.

Marin A.C. won all six of its dual meets to win the crown. Marin whipped Petaluma Tuesday, 375-197, and Santa Rosa yesterday, 355-177 in its final two meets.

Against Petaluma, Marin's Boys 15-17 200-yard medley relay team set a national record of 1:38.1, surpassing the old mark of 1:38.6. In that race Art Morrill swam a 50-yard backstroke split in 25.4, Rick Hofstetter did the breaststroke in 26.4, Ken DeMont did the butterfly in 24.1 and Spencer Eldred the freestyle split in 22.2.

Morrill also set a national record in the 200 individual medley, his 1:54.70 barely edging the old mark of 1:54.74. Hofstetter set a Pacific Association AAU record in the 100-yard breast last night against Santa Rosa, a 58.9 compared to the old mark of 59.3.

Schramm: Money Is Strike Goal

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (UPI) — Dallas Cowboys' President and General Manager Tex Schramm Wednesday made his bitterest attack yet on the striking Players Association, saying money —not freedom —was its goal.

Schramm's blast at the union came shortly after another sharp comment from New York Giants' President Wellington Mara, who said the union had caused the cancellation of a "revered part of American football."

The Cowboys' president aimed his remarks at Ed Garvey, the executive director of the NFLPA.

"Ed Garvey talks about the freedom issues," said Schramm. "But the biggest single freedom issue, elimination of the compensation rule, really represents the biggest attempted money grab in the history of sports.

"They want several hundred players annually to auction themselves off to the highest bidder among the 38 teams (NFL and WFL) in the U. S. alone.

"The players understand this. The owners understand this. It's time someone told the fans how the union spells freedom — m-o-n-e-y."

The list of veteran players in the Dallas training camp reached six Wednesday when linebacker Mike Keller and running back Les Strayhorn joined the squad.

Keller is making a comeback after sitting out all of 1973 with a shoulder injury suffered in training camp. He had been the Cowboys third round draft choice in 1972 and played in five games his rookie season.

Strayhorn is a second year back from East Carolina who made the club his rookie season last year.

Cal Credit Splurge; Who Pays The Bill?

BERKELEY (UPI) — The student bookstore at the University of California is battling with school officials over who pays the bill for three football players' $3,600 buying spree.

And the National Collegiate Athletic Association is training a gimlet eye on the athletes' luxury splurge since it appears to have been financed by the school itself, and that's against the rules.

The NCAA rules permit only tuition, room and board to be given to athletic scholarship students.

The athletes had asked the school for financial assistance, then used school charge accounts to buy luxury items including watches, perfumes and cameras in the bookstore, run by the student body association.

Bookstore manager Pat Welsh said the chancellor's office had refused to pay the bill on grounds the athletes had not been authorized to use the accounts as they did.

But the bookstore, which said the chancellor's office set no limits on how the accounts could be used, is still sending the bill to the chancellor.

Whether the bill will be paid, or the items returned or whether the bookstore will have to absorb the loss remains to be untangled, officials said.

"I'm fairly convinced that no one over there (in the chancellor's office) intended the athletes use these charge accounts the way they did," said Welsh. "I think too much trust was placed in them.

"Nevertheless, we had been given verbal instructions on more than one occasion from the chancellor's office that there was no limit on what they could buy. We had unequivocal, unlimited authorization from the vice chancellor's office."

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — With unshakable confidence, Jeanne Evert defeated Kathy Moss of Raleigh 6-0, 6-0 in the opening round yesterday of the 89th annual Southern Tennis Tournament.

Miss Evert, sister of Wimbledon singles champion Chris Evert and ranked 14th nationally in women's singles, led a parade of eight other seeds into today's third round.

the money," Curry said, explaining luncheons, banquets and other such fund-raising events would be held by players to raise the funds.

Rollow said the NFLPA offer had been relayed to the NFL, but the charity made no request that the league match the donation.

Shortly after the game was cancelled, Wellington Mara, president of the New York Giants and chairman of the Management Council executive committee, accused the union of being power mad.

Mara charged that the game was cancelled "not because it had an effect on the National Football League labor problems, because it had none, but solely because it happened to stand in the way of the union leadership's drive for power."

The annual charity game was to be resumed next year, Rollow said.

Menke Retires; 13-Year Veteran

HOUSTON (UPI) — Denis Menke, who left the major leagues last night with an emotional farewell during his last two innings of baseball, said he was tired of not earning his pay.

"I felt like I was just backing up to the pay window," the 33-year-old, 13-year veteran infielder said late yesterday. "I've never done that before. I just felt like it was time to get out."

His decision was made quickly and, as a result, the Astros decided at the last minute to insert him into last night's lineup in place of first baseman Lee May. He handled four chances without error, knowing they would be his last.

"Let's face it," he said, "You kind of look around and say, 'this is the last time' and you kind of get emotional."

Boston's Fisk Unsure When He Will Return

BOSTON (UPI) — Two weeks after undergoing knee surgery, Carlton Fisk, the Boston Red Sox' All-Star catcher, says he is unsure whether he'll return to the lineup this season.

During a period following Fisk's injury, the Sox dropped six of seven games and vacated first place in the American League East. They have won their last two contests and now trail the Baltimore Orioles by a half-game.

Fisk, speaking with reporters Wednesday for the first time since a home plate collision required surgery on his left knee, said he would like play again this year, but would not if it would endanger his career.

"I don't think the team will force the issue," said Fisk, who had a ligament repaired and a cartilage removed from the knee following a collision with Cleveland's Leron Lee June 28.

Fisk said he would work with Tim Blackwell, a promising catcher brought up from Pawtucket by the Red Sox, while he was recovering from his injury.

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates announced Thursday they had purchased catcher Chuck Brinkman from the Chicago White Sox for an undisclosed sum.

Brinkman, 29, a righthanded hitter, will be used to spell Manny Sanguillen. He has appeared in eight games with the White Sox this year and is hitting .143.

Sanguillen, the Pirates' only able bodied catcher, has complanined that catching doubleheaders is too much for him.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday night recalled outfielder Alan Bannister from their Toledo farm club in the International League.

Bannister, 22, a righthanded hitter, was hitting .301 at Toledo and leading the league in stolen bases with 28 and triples with six. He also had 15 doubles and hit four homers while driving in 32 runs in 82 games.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Semifinal action in the Southern Open 12-14 tennis tournament gets under way today with top-seeded Toni Moss favored to capture the crown.

Miss Moss, of Houston, Tex., defeated Morrow West of Mobile, Ala., Wednesday 6-2, 6- 0, to advance to the semifinals. Miss West had been 12th seeded.

Katherine Hogan of Raleigh, N.C., downed Pat Hill of Beaumont, Tex., 6-2, 6-0. Miss Hogan is the number two seed in the older division.

Boxing

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Boxer Bobby Chacon has come up with strained ligaments in his right hand, forcing his scheduled Aug. 3 World Boxing Council featherweight title bout against Venezuela's Alfredo Marcano to be postponed for at least a month.

Olympic Auditorium promoter Aileen Eaton said Wednesday it would be attempted to reschedule the championship fight for Sept. 7.

Basketball

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Pistons announced Wednesday the signing of former University of Michigan basketball star Henry Wilmore to a one-year contract.

The 6-3 Wilmore was selected by Detroit on the fifth round in the 1973 National Basketball Association collegiate draft, but could not come to terms with the Pistons, playing the year in the Continental Basketball Association.

He finished as the fourth-leading career scorer in Michigan history and eighth in the Big Ten Conference.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Murcer Finds His Power With A Pair Of Homers

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

After a long blackout, Bobby Murcer's power finally has been restored.

Murcer, whose home run stroke mysteriously disappeared midway through last season, appears to have gotten back the swing that enabled him to hit 130 homers over the past five seasons while developing a reputation as one of the most feared sluggers in the American League.

The 28-year-old outfielder, who hit only three homers over the first three months of the season, belted a pair of two-run homers last night, giving him three in three days, to lead the New York Yankees to a 9-4 come-from-behind victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Murcer connected off reliever Doug Bird in the eighth following a single by Elliott Maddox to give the Yankees a 5-4 lead then followed an inning later with another two-run shot off reliever Joe Hoerner as the Yankees scored six runs in the final two innings to post their sixth victory in their last seven games. Thurman Munson also had a two-run homer for the Yankees while John Mayberry hit his 17th homer for Kansas City.

"I'm just as surprised as anybody else," said Murcer, who has not been hitting home runs regularly since July of last season. "For a long time I just haven't been mentally prepared when I go up to the plate. I've just never had that fluid motion to hit it out. You know, like you have in golf. I have to have everything behind it. I'm no muscle hitter."

Despite his lack of home runs this year, Murcer has managed to drive in 46 runs and seems likely to be one of the three starting outfielders for the AL in the All-Star game later this month.

"I just want to get some decent stats before the All-Star game," Murcer admitted. "I don't want to be too embarrassed."

In the only other scheduled AL games last night, Baltimore extended California's losing streak to 11 games with a 9-1 victory, Boston beat Texas 3-1, Milwaukee downed Chicago 6-1 and Minnesota outslugged Detroit 11-6.

Orioles 9, Angels 1

Ross Grimsley tossed a six-hitter and Boog Powell drove in four runs as the Orioles continued to make life miserable for the Angels. Powell hit a three-run homer to highlight a four-run third inning against loser Nolan Ryan, 10-9, and also singled home a run in the eighth. Dick Williams, still winless after 10 games as Angels' manager, was ejected from the game in the third inning in dispute with home plate umpire Armando Rodriguez. Rich Coggins also homered for Baltimore.

Red Sox 3, Rangers 1

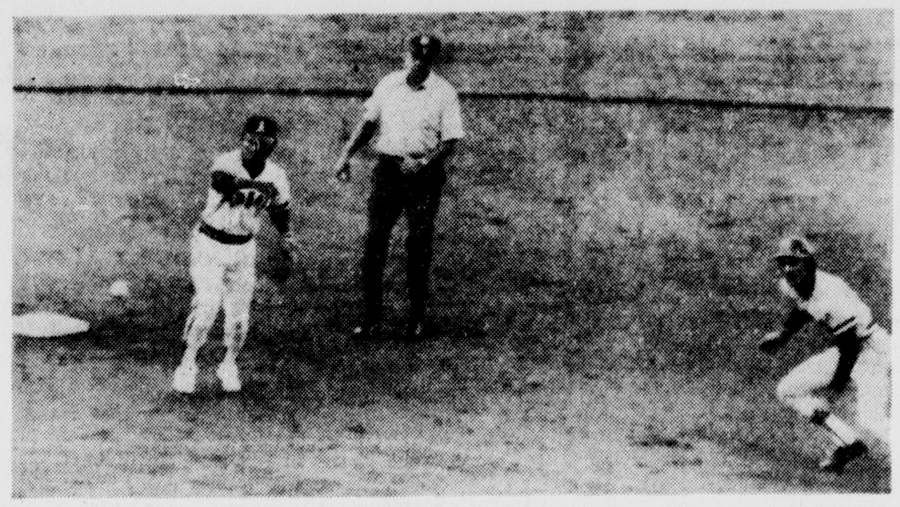
Dwight Evans stole home to highlight a two-run fourth inning and Reggie Cleveland tossed a six-hitter to lead the Red Sox to victory over the Rangers. Bob Montgomery, filling in ably for the injured Carlton Fisk, contributed a home run to the Red Sox' cause.

Brewers 6, White Sox 1

George Scott and Mike Hegan hit homers to support the four-hit pitching of Billy Champion as the Brewers swept their three-game series with the White Sox. Scott hit a solo homer in the third inning and Hegan cracked a three-run shot in the seventh to help the Brewers defeat Wilbur Wood, 14-10. Bill Melton accounted for Chicago's lone run with his 11th homer.

Twins 11, Tigers 6

Rod Carew doubled in the tying run in the sixth inning and the lead run in the eighth inning to help the Twins to their fourth straight triumph. Larry Hisle chipped in with his 13th homer as Minnesota handed Detroit its fifth straight loss.



DOUBLE STEAL — Baltimore pulled off a double steal in the second inning against California last night at Anaheim. As Mark Belanger stole second base (top photo), Angels' shortstop Orlando Ramirez threw to the plate. But catcher Ellie Rodriguez was too late with the tag (bottom photo) and Brooks Robinson scored from third.

Hunt Hot As Gaters Whip Los Angeles

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Golden Gaters continued to get top-flight play from their distaff side as they bounced Los Angeles 27-22 last night to move past the Strings in the Pacific section of World Team Tennis.

Lesley Hunt, still hot after her fine Wimbledon showing, lost the first two games to Marita Redondo and then rolled to a 6-2 win in the opener.

When she joined with Ilana Klauss in a 6-1 doubles win over Kathy Harter and Karen Sussman, the Gaters had things pretty well wrapped up.

Geoff Masters beat Dick Borhnstedt 6-2 in men's singles and Frew McMillan and Borhnsted took the tie-breaker to edge Pat Dreamer and Jean Chanfreq 7-6 men's doubles.

The Gaters needed one game in the final mixed doubles and after McMillen and Klauss won the first game, they gave way to Whitney Reed and Denise Triolo. Sussman and Masters eventually won the match 7-6.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Phillies Nip Dodgers; Cash: I Told You So

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

If the Philadelphia Phillies win the National League's Eastern Division title, Dave Cash will have the right to say, "I told you so."

The 26-year old second baseman, who was acquired from the Pittsburgh Pirates during the winter, predicted as far back as spring training that the Phillies would be contenders this season.

"We have the talent and we have the right attitude," he kept saying. "We just have to learn through experience that we can do it."

Well, here it is mid-July and the Phillies are only a half game behind the first-place St. Louis Cardinals. They lack some of the pitching and power of other teams in the division but they have demonstrated a knack for making the winning play or hit. And no one on the Phillies has demonstrated that knack more than Cash.

Dave came through in two clutch situations last night, driving in the tying runs in the seventh and then knocking in the winning run with a single off relief ace Mike Marshall in the ninth to give the Phillies a 5-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. The Phillies picked up a full game on the Cardinals, who lost their fifth straight

Don Sutton carried a 4-2 lead into the seventh but the Phillies tied the score on Jay Johnstone's single, an error by Dave Lopes, a walk and Cash's two-run single.

Marshall, making his 26th appearance since June 2, started the ninth for the Dodgers but pitched to only two batters — Tommy Hutton, who singled and advanced to second on a wild pitch, and Cash, who singled in the winning run.

The Houston Astros defeated the Cardinals, 3-2, the San Diego Padres whipped the New York Mets, 8-1, the San Francisco Giants beat the Montreal Expos, 4-2, the Atlanta Braves downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-5, and the Chicago Cubs drubbed the Cincinnati Reds, 11-3, in other NL games.

Astros 3 Cardinals 2

Greg Gross singled, stole second and scored on Roger Metzger's single in the seventh inning to give the Astros' Mike Cosgrove his fifth straight win. The Cardinals have lost five straight games and seven of their last 10 after looking like they might take command of the Eastern race. Lou Brock stole his 53rd base for St. Louis

Padres 8 Mets 1

Dave Winfield hit two homers and Bill Greif pitched a seven-hitter as the Padres snapped their six-game losing streak. Willie McCovey also had a key hit for the Padres —a two-run single in the fifth inning which boosted their lead to 5-0. Jerry Koosman suffered his sixth setback against nine victories for the Mets.

Braves 10 Pirates 5

Two-run homers by Dusty Baker and Dave Johnson were the big blows of a 15-hit Atlanta attack against the Pirates' Dock Ellis and three relief pitchers. Marty Perez had four hits and Baker and Ralph Garr three each for the Braves, who had a 9-0 lead by the fourth inning. Carl Morton went seven innings behind the barrage for his 11th victory.

Cubs 11 Reds 3

Andrew Thornton's three-run homer highlighted a six-run eighth inning outburst which clinched the Cubs' victory after the Reds cut their deficit to 5-3 in the top of the seventh. Bill Bonham received credit for his eighth win with the relief help of Oscar Zamora while Fred Norman was the loser.

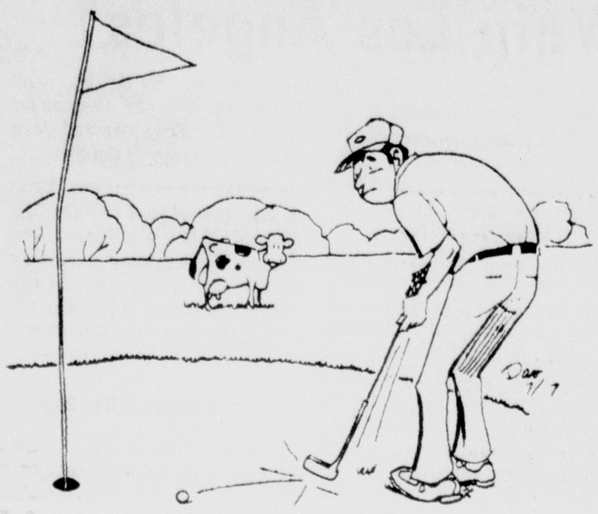
TREVINO TALKS GOLF



Picking A Putter

By LEE TREVINO

Arnold Palmer was carrying eight putters to the practice green at the 1974 Colonial National. Deane Beman, the PGA commissioner, told him "You got a whole bag full of trouble." Arnie missed the cut.

For the golfer who rarely plays, I suggest the heavier mallet-head. A blade putter is lighter and requires a sensitive touch and consistent usage. When a safecracker is in the pokey for two years, he ain't gonna start back on the Manhattan State Bank.

The putter that looks and feels best is best. It's the mental attitude at the thinking end of that baby that counts.

Some guys put a mark on top of the putter head to help center the ball on the blade. If it's shiny, a strip of black tape keeps it from reflecting the sun into your eyes.

One top touring pro uses the same putter he got years ago. He doesn't change because he feels that one variable — the different greens we play — is enough worry without breaking in new putters each week.

Select a putter that's easy to line up and good to look at. Some models look like they were picked up in the pasture. There ain't any way you can line up a ball with a cow chip.

Morris Roofing Romps In DiMaggio Action

Morris Roofing thrashed Annex Motors, 13-1, and Italian Club shut out Bank of Marin, 3-0, last night in Joe DiMaggio League baseball action.

Dave Godwin had four hits in four at bats — a double and three singles — to lead Morris Roofing, with Walt Gillespi pitching a two hitter.

Jeff Lucchesi and Gene Frey teamed up for a four-hit shutout of Bank of Marin, Lucchesi getting the win. For Italian Club, Doug Hartman and Ed Anderson had two hits and John Sullivan two runs batted in.

A scheduled game between Kelleher Lumber and Holiday Magic was postponed because the diamond they were going to use at Vallecito School in San Rafael was already taken.

The game between Kelleher and Villa Builders, rained out last Monday, will be played Friday at Tamalpais High.

Connors To Take A Break

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Jimmy Connors' immediate plans include a 10-day break from World Team Tennis after his Thursday appearance for the Baltimore Banners against the Pittsburgh Triangles and Ken Rosewall, the man he beat for his Wimbledon crown.

"I've got to catch up on my sleep," Connors said at a Wednesday news conference, explaining his planned vacation.

Connors' next scheduled competition aside from the WTT is the U.S. Open at Forest Hills, N.Y., beginning Aug. 28, but the 21-year-old court whiz said he still had to decide about playing in the Eastern Open at Orange, N.J., or the U.S. pro championships at Boston Aug. 19.

Connors listed his objectives as winning Forest Hills and being ranked No. 1 in the country. Connors had been co-ranked with Stan Smith as No. 1 prior to Wimbledon.

Connors' manager, Bill Riordan, said the phone calls since Wimbledon have been "unbelievable" and that the Wimbledon crown would be worth at least "$1-million" to his client.

"Winning at Wimbledon takes the pressure off me to prove myself No. 1," Connors said. "Now I can play for my own enjoyment as well.

"If I should win at Forest Hills, maybe they should place an asterisk next to my name titled grand slam winner," added Connors, referring to the tennis coup denied him when he was banned from the French Open because he played with WTT.

Connors had previously won the Australian Open, the first leg of the grand slam, which also includes the French, Wimbledon and U.S. Open titles.

"I also believe World Team Tennis helped me a great deal," Connors said, noting that players like Bjorn Borg were "tired by the time they got to Wimbledon." Connors played in the Banners' first seven matches before leaving for Europe and some forced idleness because of unsuccessful attempts to enter the Italian and French opens.

Dizzy Dean Is Hospitalized

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — Baseball great Jay Hanna "Dizzy" Dean was hospitalized for observation early today following what his wife said may have been a heart attack.

Dean 64, was reported in good condition at Barton Memorial Hospital.

His wife, Pat, said he was hospitalized after suffering chest and arm pains in their hotel room about 2:15 a.m.

She said he had felt some pain while playing golf Wednesday and while undressing for bed.

Girl Cage Star At Boys' Camp

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — Outnumbered 239 to one, Franny Duffy is the first girl ever to participate in coach Dave Gavitt's basketball camp at Providence College where she "plays like a guy."

Frances, 16, who won a week at the camp when she beat out more than 3,000 youngsters in a statewide basketball skills contest last year, said she doesn't mind being a minority of one. "I've played basketball with the boys before."

The coaches said the few problems involved in having a girl at the camp are easily taken care of.

PHONE CALL TO DARK

A Lucky Move By Finley

By JOE SARGIS

OAKLAND (UPI) — When you make as many moves as Charlie Finley, once in a while you are going to get lucky.

Last Monday night was one of those times for the controversial owner of the world champion Oakland A's.

The game that night pitted the A's against the Cleveland Indians with Gaylord Perry shooting for a share of the American League consecutive victory record. Vida Blue, a pretty good pitcher in his own right in recent weeks, was Perry's pitching opponent.

Finley reduced all ticket prices to the game in half in anticipation of a full house. It was a "can't miss" move and more than 47,000 fans filled the Oakland coliseum despite daylong rain.

But Finely's best move came early Monday when he called manager Alvin Dark from his insurance business office in Chicago.

Finley talks with Dark every day but this time he had a special reason.

"I want you to stick the kid in the lineup," Finley told Dark.

"You mean Claudell Washington?" asked Dark.

"Yeah," said Finley. "Make him the designated hitter and stick (Angel) Mangual in center."

"That means I have to sit Billy North down," said Dark.

"Right," said Finley. "North sits down. We are going to have a full house and I want the fans to see Claudell."

"OK Charlie," said Dark.

So, Dark did as he was told and wouldn't you believe it, Claudell Washington, a kid only two years removed from high school, winds up a hero as the A's beat Perry and deny him a spot in the record book.

Of course, Blue had something to do with the outcome of the game but in the mind of most fans filing out of the coliseum Monday night, Claudell Washington was the hero of the night.

Finley never makes a move with the A's where he doesn't have a built in alibi. His regard for sports writers is very low and he relishes putting them on.

Naturally, when the A's lineup was announced for Monday's game the first question writers asked is why isn't North playing. To the best of everyone's knowledge there wasn't anything wrong with Billy, who probably is the best defensive centerfielder in baseball. It figured he should be playing in center over Mangual, an erratic fielder at best.

The A's public relations staff had the question covered in advance.

"Billy North has a slight crack in the bone of his big toe and that is why he isn't in the lineup tonight," a member of the PR staff announced over the press box microphone."

"Good enough," everyone agreed.

But wait a minute.

The A's, trailing by a run in the bottom of the ninth, rally to tie the score at 3-3 and in the process of juggling pinch-hitters and pinch-runners, Dark winds up one outfielder short. So, Mangual shifts to left and North trots out to center, "broken" toe bone and all.

North didn't have a play in the top of the 10th and he A's win the game in the bottom of the inning.

Later, in the clubhouse North is asked how he feels, especially his toe.

"There isn't anything wrong with any part of my body and that includes my toe," snaps back North, who normally is a very likable man without anger even in the worst of situations.

That fact verified, no one had the heart to ask Dark if it was true North was suffering from injury. It would have been a terrible spot to put the A's skipper on. If he told the truth, which he probably would have, it could cost him his job.

Working for Charlie Finley, the insurance man, is risky business at best.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Borg-Warner Should Be Held

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Could you please advise me on my 26 shares of Borg-Warner (NYSE)? It has dropped very low from my purchase price in the 40s. — O.G.

A. Your shares must have been purchased prior to the 1967 two-for-one split, since the all-time high for the shares is 39½, reached in 1968. If your shares were bought before Sept. 1967 your cost would be in the 20s. Borg's four major divisions reported higher sales in the first quarter of 1974, with the largest gains scored by the industrial and steel products group (25 per cent of sales) and chemicals and plastics division (18 per cent of sales). Despite the 8 per cent rise in sales, earnings were off 7.5 per cent on sharply higher interest expenses, the three-day work week in England and materials shortages. Because Borg-Warner is widely diversified and foreign sales account for about one-third of volume, it should remain relatively recession resistant. Shares should be held for income and growth.

Q. We have been retired five years and receive $731 monthly from pensions and Social Security. In 1966 and 1969 we invested a total of $23,200 in three of the National Securities funds. Since November, 1970 we have withdrawn $4,800 in monthly payments on these funds. Our investments are now worth $16,000. Should we sell or hold? — J.S.

A. Your three funds yield 5.3 per cent from income dividends covering only $870 of your $1,200 in annual withdrawals this year.

By exchanging your shares of the National Securities Stock and Growth Funds for 2,000 shares of National Bond Fund and 865 of the Preferred Fund, you will increase your income substantially. I would hold the Dividend Fund since the yield on this is 6.5 per cent currently. These new shares of Bond Fund alone should return about $760 this year. All told, the new portfolio would pay $1,390 or 8.5 per cent. Capital gains may be realized as well on these three funds. These taxable exchanges will be transacted at net asset value for a $5 fee.

Stocks Off Slightly On Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chemicals lost ground but some glamors advanced today as prices moved slightly lower in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Eastman Kodak dropped 1 ½, Monsanto 1 ⅜ and Dupont ½ in the chemical group. A major Wall Street firm has removed Dupont and Monsanto from its investment list, according to the Wall Street Journal.

McDonald's gained 2 ½, after taking a beating recently, and Polaroid, Xerox, Corning Glass, Walt Disney, Upjohn, ARA Services, IBM and Texas Instruments all gained around a point.

Prices were lower in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. C&K Petroleum was the most active Amex issue, unchanged at 6 on 32,400 shares. Instrument System followed, unchanged at 1 on 25,400 shares. Houston Oil & Minerals was third, unchanged at 13 ½ on 23,300 shares.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Money Crunch Growing Worse Around World

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The gurgling sound of illiquidity is being heard around the world these days, as individuals, businesses, banks and governments find themselves pressed to come up with funds to finance their plans.

Banks have failed in several nations. Italy is on the verge of bankruptcy. Corporations everywhere are fighting for their lifeblood. Cities find themselves unable to afford high interest rates.

In many cities savings banks seem to be occupying some of the choice, heavy traffic sites that brokerage houses once coveted, using all the allures of carnivals to attract depositors. Some give trading stamps.

It isn't that they're doing all that well. Deposits, in fact, have been flowing out of the "thrifts" in search of higher interest rates elsewhere. The savings rate has failed to rise, as forecast.

Many families are heavily in debt, having borrowed from tomorrow to live today. At the end of 1973 total installment credit outstanding was 14.5 per cent higher than a year earlier. In just three years, $100 billion has been aded to mortgate debt.

In an economic analysis just released, Lionel D. Edie & Co., consultants, gave this trenchant report to businessmen:

"Currently, the burden of consumer installment debt is at an all-time high. That is, the proportion of his repayments on installment debt to his disposable income has reached the uncomfortably high peak of 16.7 per cent.

"The delinquency rate on total installment loans overdue 30 days or more is currently the highest by far in over 20 years, indicating the extreme difficulty consumers are having meeting their current obligations.

"Similarly, the delinquency rate on mortgage payments is the highest in 20 years."

Are municipalities any better off? Many have delayed maintenance and expansion projects, and the roads, water and sewer systems show it. New York City this week rejected a 7.92 per cent interest rate on $438 million of bonds as "unconscionable."

Businesses find themselves competing for money at higher and higher rates. While the prime rate is now about 12 per cent, some pay between 15 and 20. Banks too find themselves battling for funds.

The fight for financing therefore is becoming more fierce among individuals, banks, businesses and governments, and the world's money managers are growing in their conviction that something has to give.

If the Federal Reserve and central banks in some other nations have their way it will be spending that goes down to defeat. Everyone's spending too much, they say, and it has to stop before inflation ruins the world.

Oil Drilling Pact Signed With Arabs

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Reserve Oil and Gas Co., Los Angeles, announced yesterday it has signed concession agreements to explore for oil in the territories of two United Arab emirates, Sharjah and Fujairah.

Two two concessions encompass all offshore areas controlled by the two rulers in the Gulf of Oman including the continental shelf and any islands within their jurisdictions.

The Sharjah concession is estimated to cover approximately 550 square miles. It is contiguous to the Fujairah concession area of some 1,100 square miles, resulting in a total exploration area of 1,650 square miles.

Both concession agreements have a term of 35 years.

Vote Foes To Share Expenses

PALO ALTO (UPI) — An unprecedented plan for sharing campaign costs has been agreed upon by Rep. Paul N. McCloskey and his Democratic competitor in the November election.

McCloskey and Santa Clara Mayor Gary Gillmor, the Democratic nominee for McCloskey's congressional seat, have agreed to share the cost of a single campaign mailing to the 229,312 voters in their district south of San Francisco.

The $15,000 mailing will include campaign brochures, buttons and other literature from both candidates.

McCloskey suggested the idea after Gillmor issued a challenge for both to spend less than $25,000 apiece in the campaign. In the primary election, McCloskey spent $135,000 and Gillmor spend $17,000.

Money For Slay Trial Is Alloted

WILLOWS (UPI) — Glenn County has alloted $40,000 to cover legal proceedings against John Wayne Card, the hefty woodcutter charged with murdering members of a prominent family here.

The county Board of Supervisors made the allocation Tuesday.

Card, 26, is accused of the wire strangulation of C. B. Griffiths, and his daughter, Lisa Ann, 13, and the shooting death of Griffiths' wife, Nancy.

He is also charged with kidnaping a young widow and her two children. They were released unharmed after five days traveling with the suspect through California, Nevada and Utah.

Superior Court Judge Clyde Larimer told the supervisors he had no idea what the eventual costs of the legal proceedings would be.

Car Wash Set

The lifesavers unit of Marin Suicide Prevention will operate a fund-raising car wash Saturday at Gilmore's Shell Station at Third and Irwin Streets in San Rafael from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

ALMANAC

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Today is Thursday, July 11, the 192nd day of 1974 with 173 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

John Quincy Adams, sixth president of the United States, was born July 11, 1767. This also is the 43rd birthday of American actor Tab Hunter.

On this day in history:

In 1933, all school teachers in Germany were ordered to read Adolf Hitler's "Mein Kampf" to become familiar with the Nazi creed.

In 1952, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was nominated as Republican presidential candidate with Richard Nixon as his running mate. They were elected in November.

In 1955, the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado was dedicated with 300 cadets in its first class.

In 1973, a Brazilian jetliner crashed on approach at Orly Airport in Paris, killing 122 of the 134 persons aboard.

A thought for the day: American attorney John Calhoun said, "The surrender of life is nothing, compared to acknowledgement of inferiority."

Opponents Have A Chance To Defeat Contract With A Spade

Choose the opening lead that will help your partnership. Since your own hand is only half of the partnership, give some thought to your partner's hand as well.

LIFE EASY

When this hand was played, West thought only of his own hand. West's opening lead in his own long suit made life easy for declarer.

Dummy won the first trick with the ace of hearts, and declarer promptly set to work on the diamonds. East shifted to spades on taking the ace of diamonds, but it was too late. South was ready to cash four diamonds, three hearts, one spade and two clubs.

DEFEATS CONTRACT

West can defeat the contract by opening the deuce of spades. The ace of spades is forced out at the first or second trick, and East gets in with the ace of diamonds in time to run the rest of the spades.

How can West tell that a spade lead is called for?

It doesn't pay to set up a suit in an entryless hand. Even if West is lucky enough to set up his hearts fairly quickly he cannot expect to regain the lead to cash the hearts.

Since his own hand is hopeless, West should try to set up something for his partner. An unbid major suit is always a good shot. The opponents will usually try for game in a major suit if they can; failure to make any such attempt indicates some shortness in the major suits.

Mind you, West can't be sure of defeating the contract by leading a spade. Some contracts are unbeatable. But a spade lead is most likely to produce a good result.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one-no-trump (16 to 18 points) and the next player doubles.

You hold:
♠ - Q 7 2
♥ - 10 8 6 5 2
♦ - 6 2
♣ - J 5 4

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

Your partner may be in serious trouble at notrump, and you should be safer at your five-card trump suit.

Widow Of Pioneer Car Maker Dies

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Mrs. Gertrude Duesenberg, who married into the pioneer automobile manufacturing family, died in a nursing home yesterday at the age of 95.

She was the widow of August (Augie) Duesenberg, who with his brother, Frederick, built automobiles, engines and later race cars.

A Duesenberg racer was entered in every Indianapolis "500" between 1914 and 1932 and Mrs. Duesenberg was a familiar figure at the famed racing plant during those years.

Her husband died in 1955. Mrs. Duesenberg used to recall her husband would never let her drive one of his passenger cars.

"He was afraid I'd hurt myself," she said. "He didn't think I was good driving material."

Funeral services and burial were scheduled for Friday.

Morphine Count Charged To Twin

A felony charge of bringing morphine into Marin County Jail was filed yesterday against one of two Tamalpais Valley twins arrested last week.

Lorraine Ann Freemantle, 29, was ordered to return to court Monday to plead.

She is said to have tried to smuggle the drug to a jail inmate awaiting trial on a prescription charge.

Although both Miss Freemantle and her twin sister, Lynnette Jean, were arrested following a raid on their apartment, Lynnette was not charged.

Jerry R. Herman of the district attorney's office said it would have been difficult to prove which of the two women had possession of a small quantity of marijuana found in a bedroom.

Subject Of Book Given Tax Time

NEW YORK (UPI) — James W. Mitchell, 28, subject of the book "Gentleman of Leisure," has been convicted of income tax evasion.

Federal agents testified Mitchell, who has appeared on several radio and television talk shows, failed to report income earned from a prostitution ring during the year 1971.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Alex Hawkins Will Cover New League

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — After 10 National Football League seasons as a player, four more as a sportscaster and one as a writer, Alex Hawkins sets out tonight to cover the World Football League's first game.

"I don't feel like a traitor," laughed the man who played nine years with the Baltimore Colts and one with the Atlanta Falcons before retiring in 1968. "It's still football any way you look at it."

Hawkins, 37, is a member of the Television Network TVN troika broadcasting the WFL's inaugural joust between the New York Stars and the Jacksonville Sharks at the Gator Bowl in Florida.

His mikeside colleagues are ex-ABC sportscaster Merle Harmon and "guest commentator" George Plimpton, a failed quarterback and author of the wild, funny "Paper Lion" best-seller in 1966.

Hawkins, who with Harmon faces a 23-game WFL schedule, will be busier this fall than a flute player's upper lip during the William Tell Overture. But he has no qualms about it.

"I love it," he said. "I was without work last year and it was the first time I hadn't been doing anything in the fall in my entire life. I'm just happy they TVN officials gave me the opportunity."

He discussed these and other matters by phone from Atlanta, where he's an executive of a sanitation firm. During the interview, he modified his earlier claim of lacking work on the pro football scene last year.

He said after two years of broadcasting Altanta games and two years with CBS, he rode out last season as "a would-be sportswriter" who composed two football columns a week for the Atlanta Journal.

Hawkins, a colorful, quotable character during his playing days, said he didn't find life in the Fourth Estate at all odd because he'd spent more time with newsmen than players way back when.

Hawkins, whose network says 110 stations are carrying the WFL games, said he doesn't think the nation's football craze will lessen this year, even with three pro football leagues on TV by fall.

Tam CSD Board Sets Pay Hikes

Tamalpais Community Services District directors have approved an 8.2 salary increase for the district's eight permanent employees.

No information was available on the cost of the pay hike. After granting the raises Tuesday, directors set 7:30 p.m. Monday to review the district's proposed budget for 1974-75.

Directors accepted a consultant's recommendations for park development in the community. Plans by the firm of Royston, Hanamoto Beck and Abey call for a ballfield at Tamalpais Valley School and an open play area and tennis courts at Eastwood Park.

They shelved plans for a swimming pool after a survey of district residents showed that open space purchase and other kinds of park facilities are favored over a pool, according to Director Richard A. Drever Jr.

Board members were told by General Mgr. Leonard M. Mitchell that the district showed a $2,000 profit for its first year of garbage collection service. They agreed to consider a rate hike for the coming year to match increased costs for fuel and labor, Drever said.

Directors rejected a request by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission to appoint a representative to an advisory committee that is to explore the possibility of a consolidated water and sanitary district for Marin.

They agreed that such a committee would duplicate efforts by the Southern Marin Subregional Sewerage Agency, an organization of nine sanitary districts studying a consolidated sewage system.

U.S. Judge Denies Dismissal Motions In Ed Reinecke Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal court judge has refused to dismiss two perjury counts against California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, who is slated to go on trial here Monday.

U.S. District Court Judge Barrington Parker said yesterday he couldn't agree with defense motions that Reinecke should not be held accountable for statements he made before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

ED REINECKE
Goes to court

Defense attorney William W. Becker argued at the pretrial hearing that the Judiciary Committee had neglected to publish a one-man quorum rule as required by legislative code before taking testimony from a witness.

Becker also contended that the committee did not have a quorum present when it adopted the rule that one senator constitutes quorum for purposes of taking testimony. Nine men constitutes a quorum for the committee.

Parker said the argument has "no merit" and that the one-man rule was properly adopted.

On another motion to dismiss, the defense said that some questions put to Reinecke by the senators were imprecise and unclear, and that Reinecke did not have counsel to clarify them.

The judge agreed that some questions were ambiguous and "not as precise or crystal clear" as asked in the courts. But he said this was insufficient grounds to dismiss the case.

On Tuesday, the Special Watergate Prosecutor's Office dropped one of the three perjury counts against Reinecke, who is accused of lying to the Judiciary Committee about his involvement with efforts by International Telephone & Telegraph Co. to bring the 1972 Republican National Convention to San Diego.

The prosecutor's office said it asked that the third count be dismissed because it would be necessary to call former top White House aide H.R. Haldeman as a witness. Haldeman is slated to go on trial in the Watergate case Sept. 9.

The government said it would be unfair to Haldeman to have him on the stand so close to his own trial.

But Reinecke's chief Washington attorney, F. Joseph Donohue, told reporters he thought the real reason was "because they were afraid Mr. Haldeman would say something favorable about our client."

Donohue said the indictment was rushed out last April "because they wanted to indict him before the California primary. They destroyed his political career."

Reinecke lost his bid for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in June.

At the pretrial hearing, the defense said their witnesses could include a semantics expert and a physician who is an authority on "stress and strain."

Woman Who Refused To Pay War Tax Off To Jail

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Martha Tranquilli, a 63-year-old nurse who refused to pay part of her taxes because of the Vietnam War, said yesterday she will surrender to federal authorities July 19 to begin a nine-month prison term.

"It's something of a relief," she said. "The waiting and uncertainty are over."

Mrs. Tranquilli refused to pay the part of her 1971 and 1972 federal income taxes which she said went to support the war in Southeast Asia.

She was convicted in Greenville, Miss., in 1973. Released on a $1,000 recognizance bond, she moved here in April.

All of her court appeals were exhausted when the U.S. Supreme Court refused in June to hear her case. She had patiently waited since then to receive the federal court notice to report. It finally came this week.

"I'm persuading myself this will be a new experience," she said.

Farmworker Bus Bill Eyed Again

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — A camper pickup loaded with 19 farmworkers was rolling along toward a San Joaquin Valley farm when one of its rear tires blew out. The camper rolled over twice. Three people died.

That was 6 a.m. July 3 on a rural road about 30 miles northwest of Bakersfield. On March 16 in the same area 12 farmworkers were injured in another farm vehicle crash.

Thirteen farmworkers had died March 8 in a farm labor bus crash in Imperial County and 19 had died in a Jan. 15 crash in Riverside County when a bus hurtled into a drainage ditch.

The Jan. 15 crash was the worst farm labor vehicle accident in recent California history. It prompted Assemblyman Jack Fenton, D-Montebello, to introduce a farm labor bus safety bill.

That measure, passed by the Assembly, was killed on the Senate floor May 14 when it fell three voters short of passage. But Fenton says he will get the bill reconsidered and perhaps approved in August.

"I think we have the votes," Fenton said in a recent interview. "We have to get them on the floor."

During Senate debate, critics argued the bill would put too big a burden on the farming industry. They said farmers would have to have qualified drivers on hand just to move workers from field to field.

The Reagan administration has also raised objections to the way the bill is financed.

To get the measure off the floor, Fenton needs two-thirds of the 40-member upper house voting for the bill.

Fenton's bill would require the California Highway Patrol to start Jan. 1 making annual inspections of the state's 2,000 farm labor buses and trucks.

His measure, like current law affecting vehicles carrying farmworkers, would affect any vehicle carrying seven or more farmworkers — a station wagon, car, camper or bus, his office said.

Present law does not require the CHP to inspect farm labor buses, but officers can cite the vehicles for faulty equipment just the way they can any other vehicle.

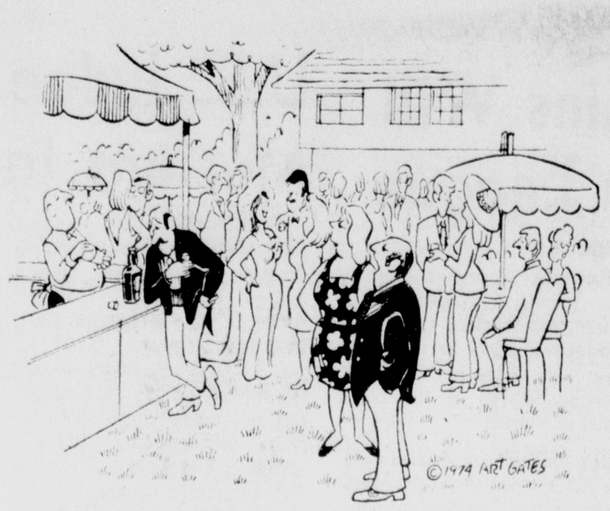
Starting July 1, 1975, the bill also would require farm labor bus drivers take a driver training course. The law now requires farm labor bus drivers to take two written tests and a medical exam.

A $100,000 appropriation from the state highway fund would give the CHP six more officers to help staff a mandatory farm labor bus driver training program.

The Reagan administration has opposed the bill in committee hearings. Reagan spokesmen have said they aren't opposed to the $100,000 in the bill. They just don't want it to come out of the state $1 billion highway fund.

Fenton is fond of saying he backs "a little less concrete and a little more safety to save human lives."

The bill is AB 2975.



"Fred's very sad. He not only lost a daughter...he lost an income tax deduction."

British Will Use Own Nuclear Power System

LONDON (UPI) — The government announced today it has decided not to buy the American light water system for its nuclear power development program.

Energy Minister Eric Varley told parliament it has decided to adopt the British steam generating heavy water reactor system for its next program of nuclear power plants.

"In the government's judgment the British system will provide power reliably and we can proceed to order it quickly," Varley said. "This system offers particular scope for British nuclear technology and we should exploit it."

Varley said government safety inspectors have advised it there should be no difficulty in giving the British system safety clearances.

Britain at present has 14 nuclear power stations which generate about 10 per cent of the country's electricity needs.

Benefits Extended

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has signed legislation extending Vietnam era veterans' education benefits from 8 to 10 years, the White House said today.

Concerns Expressed At Lutheran Session

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Lutheran Church in America convention ending its sessions yesterday expressed concern for moral decadence, Indian injustices and world hunger.

The 679 delegates from the United States, Canada and the Caribbean approved budgets for the next biennium of $36,774,740 for 1975 and $37,781,140 for 1976.

The convention voted to continue the "love compels action" special funding appeal and broaden its scope to include world hunger.

In a news conference before the final convention session, the Rev. Dr. Robert J. Marshall of New York said he thought the delegates were coupling vision with action, citing their intense interest in world hunger as a prime example.

Marshall also held up as examples of this recognition of women's interests, minority interest groups, budgets and a desire to "continue a study seeking its distinctive reason for being" as further examples of that.

The convention passed a resolution instructing Marshall to communicate with the President of the United States the LCA's "love for America and concern over the deterioration of integrity at all levels of government which contributes to the erosion of moral standards."

The convention also voted to have the 3.1 million LCA's division for mission in North America to "use its available means to work to alleviate injustices visited upon members of the Navaho tribe and other Indian persons throughout the United States and Canada."

It also resolved that the division request inter-church agencies to call upon the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, the U.S. Department of Justice and the Congressional Subcommittee on Indian Affairs to investigate and take proper action to eliminate injustices suffered by native Americans.

Similar agencies in the Canadian government are to be addressed by the LCA's Canada section.

SEOUL (UPI) — A special military court today sentenced seven left-wing politicians to death and eight others to life in prison on charges of plotting to overthrow the government and set up a Communist regime in South Korea.

A military spokesman said the court also handed down 20-year terms for each of six other persons in connection with the case.

The sentences imposed were those requested by the prosecution.

The defendants were among 55 persons, many of them students and two of them Japanese, who had been arrested and indicted on charges of allegedly seeking a violent uprising against the government in April.
